AIRPLANE SPEEDS TO LINER AT SEA, BEARING PRINCESS MARY PHOTOS

How the pictures of the marriage of Princess Mary to Viscount Lascelles appearing on page 30 of today's TRIBUNE reached America forms one of the romances of newspaperdom. They came from London to Chicago in ten days. Difficulties insurmountable beset the photographers. Palace guards had to be passed and no boats were to leave England for several days. The S. S. Olympic, bound for America, was in mid-Atlantic.

A plane of the racing type, waited without the palace gates, motors whirling, ready for action. The scenes were snapped, the undeveloped plates placed in waterproof containers and rushed to the plane. There it flew away over the English landscape and out over the gray expanse of the Atlantic until the Olympic was sighted. Round and round the trans-Atlantic liner hovered the plane until it was sighted by those aboard.

Then the carriers were dropped aboard the ship—some on the water. A launch put out and gathered them up. Aboard, the photographic plates were developed.

Arriving in New York harbor a new difficulty arose. The plates must pass the customs house. Several attempts were made to get them off the boat before arriving in the harbor, but they were frustrated by revenue cutters cruising about.

Eventually the pictures reached shore, where they were given to a Pacific & Atlantic photo bureau representative, who rushed them to the railway station, where they were placed on a westbound train, arriving here last night.

U. S.-BORN JAPS MAY OWN LAND

Marysville, Cal., March 9.—Right of two American born Japanese children to possession of land purchased for them by their father, a native of Japan, was upheld today in a decision said to be the first of its kind in California.

The decision was given by Superior Judge E. P. McDaniel in the case of the state of California against Jusuke Shingui and his two minor children, Sumiyu Shingui and Kiyako Shingui.

Claimed Land Violation. Attorney General U. S. Webb sought to have the property escheat to the state on a claim of fraud and violation of the California anti-land law in the purchase of the land.

Judge McDaniel, who declared that he favored the anti-land law and had always held it was constitutional, said that under the constitution any American born person has the right of possession in the United States of property in his own right.

In regard to the purchase of the land by the father, Judge McDaniel said that proof of fraud was not conclusive; that Jusuke Shingui did not try to take possession, "but the law does not say he cannot advance the purchase price for the benefit of his children, who, as American citizens, are not under the disabilities which stand in his way."

Rush for Farms Seen. Attorney General Webb stated that, should the court hold the transaction to be within the law, it would require no proof to conceive rapidly expanding Japanese ownership of land, with 100,000 Japanese in California and their children rapidly increasing.

Judge McDaniel's answer was: "The statement describes an impossible situation, and if the fault exists, the blame and fault are basic, growing, as they do, out of possibilities created by the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, which declares that all persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside."

Bomb Set Off at Fish Store in Grand Avenue. A bomb was set off in the doorway of a fish store owned by Tony Meschino, 314 West Grand avenue, early this morning. Windows for half a block around were shattered, but nobody was hurt. The building is owned by Frank Fararri. The motive for the bomb was not learned.

CALL LEADERS TO TAKE A HAND IN CRIME WAR

Sims and Crowe Plan Meetings.

"The time has come for a frank discussion of the criminal situation in Chicago."

"Criminals are escaping proper punishment and a deplorable disrespect for the law is being encouraged. This reflects a state of affairs which demands vigorous action."

"Recent verdicts in the Criminal court show a disregard for law and danger of collapse in the administration of justice which is a peril to this community."

A Call to Leaders. The foregoing statements are made in a call issued last night by the Chicago crime commission for a general conference to be held in the Hotel La Salle. The call is signed by Edwin W. Sims, chairman of the commission, and the invitation includes all public officials. The date of the meeting is 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, March 20.

The appeal was sent to approximately 150 Chicago citizens, officers of the various bar associations, the heads of commercial and civic organizations, the mayor, chief justice of the Criminal court, coroner, sheriff, jailer, chief of police, state's attorney, and all judges in the Criminal court.

Crowe Calls Meeting for Tuesday. Following Mr. Sims' call, State's Attorney Crowe announced that a meeting of civic and religious leaders, judges, police officials, and other officers of the law would be held in Woods' theater Tuesday at noon.

"We must awaken the public consciousness to the seriousness of the situation," Mr. Crowe said. "I shall invite Mr. Sims to preside at the Woods theater meeting. I expect Judge Kitcham Scanlan, chief justice of the Criminal court, and several other judges to be there."

"The purpose of the meeting will be to exchange ideas on effective enforcement of the law in Cook county and to attempt to work out improvements in our present methods."

"The meeting will be in no way conflict with that called by Mr. Sims."

More Judges on North Side. Unlike a similar meeting called a little over a year ago, both of these meetings will be open to every one who has a suggestion for curbing crime and furthering effective prosecution. It is likely that one of the first things to be demanded will be the assignment of more judges to the Criminal court. The need of this was again enunciated yesterday by State's Attorney Crowe.

"It is almost impossible to obtain a conviction in a murder case unless it is tried within sixty days after the crime has been committed," he said. "People are not going to get over the murder of Julius Caesar. A case has to be tried while the blood is still warm, while witnesses are still alive, while evidence is still in existence."

"When I become chief justice I kept up a constant agitation for more judges. More judges were sent to the Criminal branch. I made up a calendar of 241 cases, all over two years old, for one judge and they were pushed. Only one defendant was found guilty."

"When four additional judges were sent to the Criminal court I gave them calendars composed almost entirely of murder cases and within sixty days fifteen men had been sentenced to death. Murder dropped 51 per cent in Chicago. This city had the lowest crime rate of any large city in the country."

Need Fifteen Judges. "At present we have only six or seven judges and it is evident that a great number of the cases must be continued. The chances of winning a successful prosecution in a murder case diminish 50 per cent after sixty days. If we could have fifteen judges sitting in the Criminal court and get rid of jury fixers and suborners of perjury we would have this crime situation cleared up in quick order."

"I agree that murder cases should be brought to trial within sixty days."

Lloyd George Resigns, Says London Paper

(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.) (Copyright 1922.)

LONDON, March 9.—The Saturday Review, commenting on the political crisis in this week's issue, says:

"Lloyd George has resigned. He has not yet done so in official form, but Austen Chamberlain has his resignation in his pocket with power to use it on a suitable opportunity. The premier has expressed a desire that the Irish bill should be passed into law before the country is acquainted with his decision. He will then advise the king to send for Mr. Chamberlain and A. J. Balfour."

Balfour having expressed his unwillingness to form a cabinet, the task of forming a purely Conservative government will then devolve on the Unionist leader. All Liberal ministers with the exception of Churchill will cease to serve.

"The premier, quick to realize he was undone and that in spite of the decided repudiation and subordination of Sir George Younger, his prestige as prime minister was cruelly compromised, summoned the cabinet and announced his decision to depart."

"When the Irish bill has passed into law it will be made known. He will not wait for the Genoa conference, for his expectations in that regard have been torpedoed by the joint efforts of America and France."

CLOSE ON TRAIL OF LAWYER HEIR TO AN EARL DOM

English Estate Seeking Him Via Quincy, Ill.

Coincidence pursued a devious course to proclaim last night that Cyril W. Armstrong is an heir to an earldom, whatever that will bring him.

Armstrong was formerly a reporter on a country newspaper in Illinois. He has been of recent years a comparatively unknown attorney, practicing in Chicago.

But word came last night which promises to lift him this morning from his obscurity. It was to the effect that Armstrong has a title in England and a snug fortune in India waiting for him to claim them.

Comes Via an Illinois Mayor. The message came in the form of a communication from Mayor E. J. O'Brien of Quincy, Ill., to Paul Schroeder, realty dealer of Wilmette and Glenview, who worked with Armstrong on a Quincy paper.

Mr. O'Brien said he had received a letter from the state department at Washington transmitting a letter from the British vice consul at Nairobi, Ukamba province, British East Africa, to whom Capt. St. John A. Shelverton, Armstrong's younger brother, had appealed for aid.

Shelverton, the letter said, had adopted the name of his stepfather. Originally the brothers were three. The second in line was killed in France and the third in line was killed in India. It is almost impossible to obtain a conviction in a murder case unless it is tried within sixty days after the crime has been committed."

Devotion Search for "Earl." The letter from the state department reached Mayor O'Brien on March 7. The mayor did not know Armstrong and had no means of ascertaining his whereabouts. But the Quincy paper carried a short item about the state department's communication, which fell into the hands of Postmaster Elmer Selby at Camp Point, Ill., about twenty miles from Quincy.

Selby had been employed on the Quincy paper with Schroeder and Armstrong and sent the item to Schroeder, thinking it would interest him, but having no idea that Schroeder would be able to communicate with Armstrong, who left Quincy in 1899.

Sees Picture in Paper. About two years ago Schroeder became involved in an argument with a fellow townsman on the north shore. In the course of the argument he punched the fellow townsman's nose. In connection with an account of the subsequent court proceedings Schroeder's picture appeared in This TRIBUNE. Armstrong chanced to see it and later took occasion to renew the friendship which had been formed in Quincy.

None of Armstrong's friends knew where he was living. A Tribune reporter, who had met him on a story located him late last night at the Sheridan Plaza hotel. But up to 1:30 o'clock this morning he failed to answer his room telephone.

Works Way Through School. Armstrong left India in 1899. Mr. Schroeder said, to go to England. But he left there in 1894 and went to Montana. He then came to Illinois. He was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1903. He said to be in moderate circumstances.

GIVES HER TALE OF THE MURDER OF KENNEDY

Fatal Visit to Glen Impromptu Trip.

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 9.—(Special.)—Madelynn Connor Obenchain, roses in her cheeks, poised in her manner, her voice calm, her eyes smiling, took the stand today in Judge Sidney N. Reeve's court to tell of her love for J. Belton Kennedy and of his death in Beverly Glen last August.

For four hours her chief counsel, Jud Rush, questioned her about the man she loved, the man she is accused of slaying, about Arthur Burch, accused with her of the murder, and about Ralph Obenchain, who was once her husband.

For four hours she answered questions and left the stand pale, weeping, shaken with emotion.

Summary of the Defense.

During those four hours Mrs. Obenchain made a defense which went into all details regarding the killing of Kennedy and the events of her life which immediately preceded that tragedy.

She said that the fatal trip with Kennedy to Beverly Glen was made on the spur of the moment; that Kennedy himself suggested it; that Burch knew nothing of the trip; that Kennedy constantly boasted that he was married, finally insisting on a secret marriage; that she persisted in demanding compensation of him for his desertion of her and his own life; that she did not consent to go to Salt Lake with him; that she struggled with him over possession of the revolver, and that these things induced her to consent to see him again and eventually led to the fatal day.

Jury Listens Closely. The jury of nine men and three women listened with rapt attention, studied the woman who mixed her story with a considerable number of tears. She produced some dramatic values. The same close attention was given by the crowd in the courtroom that jammed every nook and corner.

The street outside was crowded with men and women who hoped they might get a chance to see her. The corridors outside the courtroom were clogged. Detectives were taking their friends into the courtroom across the "Bridge of Sighs," and one deputy district attorney issued a subpoena for a woman, that she might get into the courtroom.

Falters but Seldom. For more than seven months Los Angeles and Madelynn herself had waited for this day. And Madelynn met it. The pallor was gone. She was sparkling, sure of herself, playing a dramatic role. But now and then an errant memory of the man she loved, and lost, made her voice tremble and the tears come to her eyes.

Her hands played with the locket in which is a newspaper picture of J. Belton Kennedy, the man she is accused of slaying, the "one great love of her life." It is the only picture she has of him.

Down behind the counsel table two men looked at her, her former husband Ralph Burch Obenchain, who hopes to remarry her, and John D. Kennedy, Belton's father, a stern, silent, implacable little man, gray of hair and red of face. Madelynn didn't look at either of them.

On Stand All Day. Her wide brimmed hat, blue black Milan, with a soft white mushroom crown, embroidered in blue, was slanted down over her right cheek, and as she faced the jury constantly, those her left caught but a glimpse of her face now and then.

She went on the stand at 10 o'clock this morning. She was still on the stand when the court adjourned; and she will be on the stand a great part of tomorrow.

Her attorney, Jud Rush, led her gradually up to the night of the murder.

She was more confident in the afternoon than she had been in the morning.

"I was a little afraid at first," she said, "but once I got in the witness chair and began telling my story to the jury I could feel vibrations of sympathy coming to me."

Asked About Fatal Day. She put a 75 cent capella on her fur before she came to court in the afternoon and laughed on milk toast and ice cream and tea.

"Now, on the day of Aug. 5—did you see Belton Kennedy on that day?" After three and a half hours of questions and answers Rush got to this point.

Madelynn stirred uneasily in her

WARNS OF BONUS LOANS

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 9.—(Special.)—Despite criticism by Controller of the Currency Crisinger of the bank and future of the soldiers' bonus bill, Washington house leaders went forward today with their plans to push the measure through without further delay.

The full ways and means committee is scheduled to meet on Saturday to take formal action.

Controller of the Currency Crisinger in an interview pointed out that adjusted service certificates would not be eligible for redemptive by federal reserve banks.

Mr. Crisinger said that he would advise all national banks to refuse to accept the certificates as collateral, as seat. Her big blue eyes dimmed. She turned to the jury.

"Yes," she said.

And so began the story of the last day with Belton Kennedy, a story told without hesitation and without apparent striving for effect, told in questions and answers. A story speaking in a great silence—drain. A—Belton called me about 9 o'clock in the morning. He said he was going to the dentist and would have all the afternoon off. He suggested we drive to the beach. I consented.

"In the afternoon I went to the safe deposit vault and got some jewelry and the contract for a lot I was buying. I made a payment on it.

"Then I went back to the bank. I left the contract there and returned to the Alexandria hotel. I went to Mrs. Wilson's beauty parlor and told her I was going for a drive with Kennedy and that I would be back early. A—'I asked her to stay at my hotel and wait for me. I was afraid Belton would come back with me. I was afraid of another such scene as we had had.'

Questioned About Burch.

Q—Did you see Burch on this day? A—Yes. It was about 2 o'clock. He said he had had a wife from his mother telling him to draw on her for $100. He intended to leave Los Angeles in the morning. He was supposed to be back in Chicago by a certain date. He said he would pay me the $100 I had loaned him—would get it to me in the afternoon. I told him I was going riding with Kennedy during the afternoon, and he said he would get the money to me that night or the next morning. I told him there was no hurry.

Q—What time did you and J. Belton Kennedy leave for the ride? A—It was about 4 o'clock or a little before. We went to Manhattan beach and then to Del Rey.

Q—Had you planned to go there? A—To Manhattan, yes, not to Del Rey.

Q—Why Manhattan? A—Belton suggested it. He said he wanted to spend the day there, as we had spent a happy afternoon at this place before. I went to Chicago to get my divorce.

"Their Last Day Together."

Mrs. Obenchain had previously told she had promised Kennedy to see him "just once more"—this after he had threatened to kill her and himself if she did not. This was to be their last day together. It was.

Q—What time did you leave for Los Angeles? A—I don't know exactly. But the sun had gone down and the moon had come up, a little silver sickle of a moon. I remember well because we commented on it as we drove.

Q—What did you talk about during the afternoon? A—O, many things. We talked of his home affairs, of our love affairs. It was the old, old struggle—his wish to run off with me somewhere and marry me; my determination that there should be no secret marriage. I insisted that I must see his parents. I told him they would understand me and he would understand them. He was afraid. He told me they would do terrible things. He asked me if I loved him and I would not say. "You don't need to say it," he said. "If you love me, you will tell me that you love, your eyes do."

Wanted to Dine with Him.

Q—What time did you go? A—Through Venice, Ocean Park, Santa Monica, past the Sunset Inn. I wanted to dine there with him. He asked me if I had ever been there. When I told him I had not he said I would take him to the place. And we went on.

Q—To the Brentwood club? A—Yes. But we did not go in, because the place was dark. We did not get out of the machine. We went on.

Q—Where? A—We decided to go back to Los Angeles and dance at the hotel and have a bite to eat. But when we came to the place where the wood branches out—the road to Beverly Glen—he turned into it. I asked him where he was going. "We still have time," he said. "Let's go to the end of the Glen and back."

AT THE DEATH STEPS

Q—You went down the road? A—Yes. To the end, past the cottage his father had given him on his twenty-first birthday, beyond the store, and we turned back. We were talking about different things. Then a black car passed in front of the motor. "Bad luck," he said. We went on a little ways. "Speaking of luck," he said, "that reminds me. You once told me you had hidden a lucky penny at the cabin. Let's find it to counteract the black cat." I had left a penny there last winter. We stopped the car in front of the cottage. It was very dark. I didn't want to get out, fearing the wet grass would soil my slippers. I wanted to keep them clean for the dance. He laughed at this and said he would protect me. We started up the steps. He was on my right side. He was a step below me all the way up, but he kept hold of my arm. When we got on the porch he started looking for the penny, but it was too dark, and he couldn't see anything. "Wait a minute," he said, "and I'll get some matches."

Describes the Shooting.

I wanted to come, but he said no, I'd probably get my slippers dirty, and I started down. I called to him that I didn't want to be left alone. I was afraid that some of these little things with a stripe down their back might be prowling around. He laughed and said he would talk to me all the time. I was frightened and clutched the post. It was so dark I couldn't tell whether he went through the gate or not. I heard some one say something. Then there was a shot. I tried to scream. I felt as if I was screaming. I tried to move, but couldn't—I was shaking so. I heard Belton say "Good night, Madlynn." Right after the word Madlynn was out of his mouth there came another shot. I didn't know whether I was going to be shot or not.

Witness Breaks Down.

I was standing on the top of the steps. I heard something in back of me—something moving. I swerved around. I saw two men, so near to me I could touch them. One appeared taller, but perhaps it was because he was further up the grade than the other. Both were dressed in rough clothes, workmen's clothes, as nearly as I can remember. He, Belton [here she broke down and sobbed and the courtroom was shaken with the emotion]. I knew he was seriously hurt. My mind was hazy, dazed, but I remember running down the steps. I heard an automobile coming down the road. I waited, screaming. A man was driving. He went by me. I ran after him, crying as loud as I could, begging him to stop. He did stop finally, and came back. I remember telling him some one had been hurt, asking if there was a telephone, a hos-

HER EARLIER TESTIMONY

In the morning session Madlynn had told how she had time and again asked Kennedy to send back her letters and telegrams, and how he always put her off. He would promise to bring them to her on a certain night if she would promise to meet him. She did not want to meet him, she said. She told him where he could leave her letters. But he was not satisfied with that. So she promised to meet him over and over again.

Q—Did you really and sincerely love J. Belton Kennedy? A—Yes, O yes.

Q—Did he love you? A—He did.

Q—When you left Los Angeles in the afternoon of Aug. 8 did you know you were going to Beverly Glen? A—I did not.

Q—Did you really and sincerely love J. Belton Kennedy? A—Yes, O yes.

Q—Did he love you? A—He did.

Q—When you left Los Angeles in the afternoon of Aug. 8 did you know you were going to Beverly Glen? A—I did not.

No Arrangement with Burch.

Q—Did you tell Arthur Burch, or any one else, that you were going to the Glen? A—I did not.

Q—Did you have any arrangement or agreement with Arthur Burch? A—I did not.

Q—Did you notice any auto going either way, while you and Kennedy were riding toward the cottage in Beverly Glen? A—No—I did not.

Q—And she broke down again and wept freely, pressing her face on her handkerchief to her eyes.

Madlynn had been on the stand four hours. It had been a terrible ordeal. Judge Sidney N. Reeve thought the time for adjournment had come.

On June 14 he wrote her in Chicago, saying he planned to go to Europe, and asked her to reconsider their plan to be married in San Francisco. Again, he wrote he was waiting for his mother to go east, when he would come to her to be married.

WRANGLE OVER LETTER

Counsel for defense and prosecution had wrangled over a letter written by Burch to Madlynn which seems to have been destroyed. Heated arguments were made, and hostile retractions. But at the beginning of the afternoon session the affair was straightened out. It was in answer to a letter she wrote Burch about the time she wrote an unkind letter to Kennedy. Madlynn explained that Burch had written that his firm had gone bankrupt and he was coming out to Los Angeles, "as he felt he needed a vacation."

She sent him a wire, asking him to wait until she received her letter, and looked at the steps and said I must go away. I wanted to stay. I didn't want to leave Belton there alone. [She broke down again and wept.]

Q—Did you really and sincerely love J. Belton Kennedy? A—Yes, O yes.

Q—Did he love you? A—He did.

Q—When you left Los Angeles in the afternoon of Aug. 8 did you know you were going to Beverly Glen? A—I did not.

Q—Did you really and sincerely love J. Belton Kennedy? A—Yes, O yes.

Q—Did he love you? A—He did.

Q—When you left Los Angeles in the afternoon of Aug. 8 did you know you were going to Beverly Glen? A—I did not.

Woman in Burch's Room.

Q—Did you ever go to that hotel and sit with him and look out the window? A—No.

Q—Did you ever see any woman go into his room at the hotel? A—No.

Q—Did Burch ever tell you of a woman's being up there? A—Yes.

Q—There was some surprise at this, but Burch did not ask for an explanation.

Q—Did you ever talk to J. Belton Kennedy about Arthur Burch? A—Yes.

Q—What did you say, substantially?

Q—Where did you go on your ride with Burch? A—To Pasadena, Sierra Madre, amusement parks, various places—I don't remember all of them.

Q—Did you ever go out to Beverly Glen with him while he was here, in your life? A—No.

Q—Did you ever go with him to the vicinity of Beverly Glen? A—No.

Q—Did you ever point out the Glen road to him, or tell him how to get there—ever in your life? A—No.

Q—The following week—did you go riding with him? A—No.

Q—Did you know he had hired an auto, giving the name of M. O. Obenchain and the address of the Alexandria hotel? A—No.

Q—When did you learn that Arthur Burch was stopping at the Russell hotel? A—At dinner that Sunday night in the Alexandria. I asked him if he had found a place to stay, and he said he was at the Russell. He said his room had a peculiar odor, but he wasn't going to mind that, as he would be there only at night when he couldn't smell it.

could recommend any place. I told him I had got a reasonable place some time before on Eighth street and Rampart and I told him about the Russell hotel. Belton and I had made jokes about spending our honeymoon there. It was right across from Belton's office and we used to laugh about it frequently—such a little place.

Q—When you took the street car where did you go? A—I got out at Fifth and Spring streets, the Alexandria hotel. I had told Mr. Burch how to get to 8th and Rampart. He went on alone.

Met in the Evening.

Q—Did you meet him that night? A—Yes. It was about 5:30 o'clock.

Q—Where? A—In the dining room of the Alexandria.

Q—Did you have any conversation about Belton or your love affairs? A—Yes. I told Mr. Burch I didn't think there was any chance of Belton and I being married so long as he was afraid of his people, so long as he insisted on going to Salt Lake or somewhere and marrying me secretly, and I insisted on being open and above board with them. I said, "Possibly you, being a man, could talk to Belton in a way I couldn't. Maybe you can make him see the logic in my point of view." He said, "I'll be very glad to."

Q—Did you see Arthur Burch the following day? A—Yes. He had hired an auto and asked me to go riding.

Q—What time was it? A—Either about 11 o'clock or 2 o'clock. There were the hours we usually went out when we did go out together.

Q—What time did you return? A—We got home by 5 o'clock. Belton usually came to me at 5 o'clock in the morning, 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and 8 o'clock, and I know he called me that night at 8.

Never Drove to Beverly Glen.

SWEDISH LEAGUE REFUSES SMALL AN INDORSEMENT

Jobholders' Plea Fails to Move G. O. P. Citizens.

Two jobs were given Gov. Small yesterday from two widely separated sources.

One was the failure by the John Erikson Republican League of Illinois to endorse the governor's administration.

The other came from the Democratic state committee in its meeting in Chicago. A platform condemning Small and advocating his elimination as governor was adopted.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Moline, Ill., March 9.—(Special.)—Gov. Small's state administration drew a blank today in the resolutions adopted unanimously by the Swedish Republicans of Illinois who were heretofore the staunchest of his supporters. A platform condemning Small and advocating his elimination as governor was adopted.

The platform adopted failed to in any way mention the governor. It was the first time in twenty-eight years that the Swedish Republicans did not endorse a Republican administration. The platform represents the sentiment of 700 delegates from the big Republican counties of Illinois, including 125 active workers in Republican politics from the Chicago wards where the nationality is a factor.

Following the refusal of the resolutions committee to make the usual formal O. K. of the sitting Republican governor, notice was served by state administration lieutenants that they would insist on an amendment making approval of Gov. Small. This was met with the announcement of delegates, including John Kjelander of Cook county, that this move would bring a substitute proposal condemning in unequivocal terms the state administration.

Job Holders Are Active.

The resolutions committee declined to back up. The state crowd, represented by a formidable squad of job holders, held out until the unanimous report of the resolutions committee was read by John E. Erickson of Chicago, the newly elected president. Then the Small forces gave up, and the report of the resolutions committee was ratified without a roll call and by unanimous vote.

The resolutions, as adopted, endorsed President Harding, his cabinet and G. O. P. national representatives, and the conduct of national affairs by the Republican party. They were framed to include both United States senators from Illinois and all of the Republican members of congress from the state.

Approves Good Roads Program.

Approval of the good roads program was far as the resolutions committee would go in respect to the state administration.

Eight hundred guests had seats at the annual banquet of the league to night in the gymnasium of Augustana college. Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace was the chief speaker of the evening.

The officials of the league received a message from Senator Medill McCormick in which the achievements of the Republican congress were recounted. President Harding's policies praised, and Republican success in the coming congressional campaign predicted.

DEMOCRATS PLAY SMALL

In a platform ringing with condemnation of Gov. Small and his policies, the Democratic state committee yesterday pledged to the people of Illinois a housecleaning in the next legislature if Democrats are placed in control. The platform declares the people are demanding the removal of Gov. Small and promises to end the malodorous situation at Springfield.

Democratic candidates were warned they would be held to the strictest accountability if they made poisonous alliances with the Lundin-Smith-Thompson machine.

Here Is the Platform.

By unanimous vote a platform in part as follows was adopted:

"The most important duty confronting the people of the state of Illinois involves the cleansing of their government at Springfield.

"We have a governor who is under indictment upon charges of looting the state treasury.

VISITED BY ROBBERS

Victims of the robbers shown in the photo; standing (left to right), Katharine, Edward, and Harold Brophy; seated, Harold Barys, Bernice Brophy, and Mrs. Barys.

Bind Schoolboy

ROBBERS entered the apartments of Mrs. W. Barys and Mrs. A. Brophy, 3407 West Adams street, yesterday and looted them of jewelry, cash, and furniture valued at $7,000. A machine was used to cart the loot away.

The robbers "jimmied" the front door of the Barys home in order to get into the apartment. Once inside, they stripped the parlor of valuable rugs and draperies. They also filled two pillow cases with cut glass and silver and took two fur coats belonging to Mrs. Barys.

While the robbers were ransacking the two apartments Harold Brophy, 16 years old, returned from school. The bandits threatened to shoot him, bound and gagged him, and tossed him into a clothes closet.

The lad was released several hours later when his mother and sisters returned from a shopping tour and heard his cries.

universal sentiment of the people that he shall present himself for trial before a competent tribunal and thereby enable the machinery of the law to determine the question of his guilt or innocence, the people are overwhelmed with the shame of the spectacle presented by their chief executive invoking the obsolete doctrine of the divine right of kings, and claiming that as the successor of royalty could do no wrong, and appearing in court and demanding, upon grounds that are trivial and incompetent, that his trial be further delayed.

Points to Difference in Past

"Thus Illinois, whose galaxy of distinguished sons includes Lincoln, Grant, Logan, Palmer, Douglas, Altgeld, and scores of others whose wisdom and deeds are written in the pages of history, is forced to bear the burden of disgrace that has been showered upon them by Len Small."

It is to be wondered at that when our governor resorts to the shabby tricks of the meanest lawbreaker in a conspiracy to 'beat' the case against him that cringes of violence are becoming more and more frequent; that the machinery of the criminal law has all but broken down in Cook county, and that a community finds itself compelled to resort to heroic measures to prevent the breaking down of our civilization.

"The state pay rolls have been gutted with the names of unknown adventurers to such an extent that the numerous state offices are not large enough to hold all of the beneficiaries of the Small largesse at one time.

"The taxpayers are footing the bills.

Warns Democratic Candidates

"The Democratic state committee hereby warns all Democrats who are candidates for seats either in the senate or house to beware of poisonous alliances with this brood of public plunderers, and we hereby declare that any Democrat who fails to heed this warning will be held to the strictest accountability for his conduct."

When He Was Tried

When taken to the station he told the police that he had committed the robbery because he was unable to support his wife on the salary he was receiving.

When he was tried, he was sentenced to serve an indefinite term in Pontiac reformatory. A few months after his term began he was paroled to Chicago, the police records show.

Was Paroled Here

When he was 16 he obtained a position as clerk in the office of the Independent Pneumatic Tool company. His salary was $9 a week. One night he met Miss Lula Mae Woodward of Valparaiso, Ind., and fell in love.

On the afternoon of Sept. 19, 1914, the central police received a call that a bandit had entered an office in the First National Bank building and was escaping with a large amount of loot. A squad of police found young Fennekes, a revolver in each hand, holding three clerks at bay. He had already looted a strongbox in an office of $65, the police learned.

London Extends Subways

Four and One-half Miles

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, March 9.—London appreciates the value of subways. Despite the fact that it already possesses the largest underground railway system in the world and despite the present financial situation it was announced today that 15,000,000 (roughly $25,000,000) will be spent on extension and improvement, giving employment to 20,000 men for two years. Among the improvements are the extension of one tube four and one-half miles, tapping new suburbs, also linking up the present tubes and generally improving the service.

DENEEN IN DEAL WITH CITY HALL, CROWE CHARGES

Promises to Make His Foe Reveal Motives.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, speaking last night at the Thirteenth Ward Republican club, charged Charles S. Deneen with having secretly taken the seat which he left vacant at the city hall political table.

"Deneen has made a deal cold with the city hall," he said. "And Charles S. Deneen hasn't got the courage to get up and say he has made an alliance with Fred Lundin. But he is going to rely on Fred Lundin in this fight and juring this campaign I'm going to make him stand out and let the sunshine strike him and reveal his real motives. I'm going to make him take his place as a spoliator, as the man who thinks more of his faction and his own welfare than of the welfare of the Republican party."

Goes Back Over Deneen Record.

Mr. Crowe went back to Deneen's eight year leadership of the party in Cook county, declaring that he had filled the offices with Democrats during that leadership.

"And now he has criticized me because I quit the city hall," he continued. "There was a time when I saw him criticized because he deserted the man who twice had made him state's attorney—William Lorimer. He quit Lorimer because he refused to support him for governor—for a selfish political motive."

Why He Quit City Hall.

"I quit the city hall because of a moral issue, not for a selfish political reason. I pledged the people when I was elected that I would close up the breeding spots of crime, houses of prostitution, and gambling houses. I closed the Campbell gardens in the ward and when I went out to close the gambling houses I found it didn't meet with the approval of certain persons in the city hall. I refuse to go along with any man, no police who believes in protecting gambling."

Robbed Bank, Killed 2, Police Charge.

Henry J. Fennekes, a Chicago boy who in 1914, when 16 years of age, attempted to hold up an office in the First National Bank building here in order to obtain funds to support his 16 year old bride, was arrested yesterday in New York, charged with a bank robbery and two murders.

Fennekes, now 24 years old, is alleged to have been the "lone bandit" who held up the First National bank of Pearl River, N. Y., and then killed two cashiers when they tried to prevent his escape.

YUGO-SLAVS SEEK YANKEE CASH FOR DEVELOPMENTS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BEIGRADE, March 9.—A financial conference ordered by the Yugo-Slav government met here today to consider measures for dealing with the financial crisis caused by the big slump in the rate of exchange on money of the southern European states. The Roumanian leu has slumped to a half dinar (the present value of the dinar is 99 cents), Polish kronen to seventy-five for one dinar, and Czechoslovakian kronen have fallen from 120 kronen to 100 kronen for the dinar.

The money market is shaky, while the Yugo-Slav bankers are incensed at the moratorium, which the government hopes to lift next week. Yugo-Slavs are basing its hopes on readjustment by a loan from the United States.

Faces Bandits' Guns

MRS. SAM GINSBERG.

Three men held up the jewelry store of Sam Ginsberg at 2030 South Halsted street last night and looted the safe of unset diamonds and jewelry valued at $5,000.

A short time after the robbery very detectives from the bureau arrested a man who gave the name of George Moran, address Bellefontaine, Pa., and held him as a suspect.

The bandits entered the store while Ginsberg was placing several trays of jewelry in the safe preparatory to closing up. They ordered the owner and his wife into a rear room and while one guarded them the other looted. The robbers left the scene in an automobile.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Illinois League of Women Voters yesterday sent questionnaires to all candidates. They ask specifically the candidates' position regarding the extension of civil service and the enforcement of prohibition laws.

Ald. U. S. Schwartz, Democratic candidate for member of the board of review, in a statement declared that, if elected, landlords will receive little consideration at his hands if they are charging excessive rents.

H. C. W. Laubenhilmer, Deneen candidate for the nomination for sheriff, addressed a meeting of the National Republican club of the Twenty-fifth ward held at the Broadway Gardens last night. He cited his fourteen years in the sheriff's office as qualifying him for the place. Wallace G. Clark, candidate for county treasurer, pointed out that Charles Ringer, his opponent has two more years to serve as assessor.

CHARGES UNION THREATS BALKED RAIL PAY PACTS

Subordinates Intimidated, Road Official Says.

Higher-ups in railway union labor, intimidating less grasping subordinates with threats that have included lynchings, have prevented successful wage negotiations between carriers and their shop crafts, according to charges made yesterday at the hearing of the United States railroad labor board by John G. Walber, executive secretary of the bureau of information for eastern roads.

The charges, which entailed an otherwise monotonous session, precipitated a spirited tilt between Mr. Walber and B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts and president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor.

Agreement Blocked, He Charges.

Walber was reading statistics bearing on the railways' petitions for lower wages, with a graduated scale that would consider the prevailing pay in individual localities. He named a number of roads seeking this scale, and said agreements could have been reached on many lines if local union officials had not been influenced by union leaders of higher rank.

The unions are holding out for a flat rate.

"There would, in many instances, have been agreements if the men had dared exercise their judgment," Walber asserted.

Tells of Lynching Threat.

"Well," Walber said, "there was the Elkhart, Ind., case. Out of this dispute arose, not only the threat to throw out a union man who favored agreement, but to stage a lynching party."

Another flareup during the afternoon session came when J. A. Franklin, president of the boilermakers' union, accused the carriers of seeking to influence public opinion through propaganda.

"I wouldn't insult the public by saying it can be beguiled by propaganda," Walber countered. "And when it comes to propaganda, you fellows have the railway association 'lashed to the mast.'"

Earlier in the day, Mr. Walber delivered himself of a lengthy statement intended to show the lower wages sought would benefit not only the public as a whole, but the employees themselves.

ACCUSED NURSE ACCUSES WIDOW OF PETER HEWITT

Sues in Paris, Making Sensational Charges.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, March 9.—Sensational testimony regarding the cause of the death of the late Peter Cooper Hewitt, the inventor, are expected to grow out of the proceedings begun in Paris by Miss Elizabeth C. Kelly, a trained nurse, formerly of Montreal and New York, against Mrs. Marion Andrews Hewitt, the widow of Mr. Hewitt, who has just arrived in Paris, having come to France on the Aquitania.

Miss Kelly's suit is a counteraction to charges made by Capt. Rupert Higgins, a former agent of the British passport bureau, who, acting on behalf of Mrs. Hewitt, alleged that Miss Kelly, while nursing Mr. Hewitt, before he died last August, stole jewelry from Mrs. Hewitt.

Charges by Nurse.
The court dismissed the complaint against Miss Kelly last January. The nurse asserts that Capt. Higgins, Mrs. Hewitt, and another of her friends, Baron Robert Ellinger, an Englishman, sought to have her expelled from France—even taking the matter up with the American embassy—because "she knew too much about Peter Cooper Hewitt's death."

"I was summoned to the Ritz to attend Mr. Hewitt August last," Miss Kelly says. "A few days afterward he was removed to the American hospital at Neuilly, where he was operated on for intestinal trouble. He was progressing and appeared well when suddenly he had a relapse and died. Afterward Mrs. Hewitt's friend, Capt. Higgins, complained to the police that I had stolen a diamond brooch while I was at the Ritz and also some of Mr. Hewitt's patents."

Accuses Capt. Higgins.
While awaiting a hearing of the case Baron Ellinger and Capt. Higgins broke into my room at the Hotel Plaza late at night and threatened me, trying to get me to leave France. I screamed and the manager ejected them. Now I am suing Capt. Higgins on criminal charges for 50,000 francs (roughly $4,500). Mr. Hewitt's own sisters, living at 1 Lexington avenue, New York, were here when their brother died. They did not associate with their brother's wife, but will testify on my behalf when the time comes."

Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt were married in 1919. When the inventor died he is reported to have left his wife $3,000,000. Mrs. Hewitt and her two children, Anna, aged 7, and Richard Brugere, 20, have been living in Paris near the Bois de Boulogne.

Capt. Higgins was mentioned in anonymous letters sent to Paris newspapers as about to marry Mrs. Burr McIntosh as soon as she was divorced.

ENGLAND PLANS TO PAY U. S. DEBT WITH BIG SAVINGS
(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)
[Copyright: 1922.]
LONDON, March 9.—In the forthcoming budget it is hoped to show a saving in 1922-23 of £70,000,000 ($300,000,000) over and above the reductions adopted from the Goddard report. Out of this, it is understood, the sum of £25,000,000 ($100,000,000) will be allotted to the first installment of £50,000,000 interest on Great Britain's debt to America.

PRINCESS EITEL FLAUNTS ILLICIT LOVE IN COURT

LONDON, March 9.—[United News.]
—The most amazing divorce suit in recent history, in which former Prince Eitel Friedrich, second son of the former kaiser, is pictured as a complacent husband who permitted his wife to maintain intimate relations with Baron Plettenburg, an officer in the Prussian guards, is revealed in reports from Berlin, where the trial opened Thursday.

Also astounding are the revelations, as told by the Berlin correspondent of the Daily Express, that reports of the hearing have been suppressed in the Berlin newspapers.

The Princess Eitel Friedrich, named as co-respondent by the Baroness Plettenburg, flaunted her love for the baron in the face of the court, according to the report, and openly admitted her relations with the officer. She denied, however, that the love affair had continued after the baron married the woman who is now bringing suit.

She declared without the slightest hesitation, it is said, that she knew the baron well when she was still the Princess Sophie, daughter of Grand Duke Friedrich August of Oldenburg. After her marriage to the kaiser's second son, she said, her relations continued, with the full knowledge of Prince Eitel. The prince, she explained tolerated the situation because the baron was "a friend and an officer in the Prussian guards."

BRYAN LOSES TO DARWIN IN CLOSE KENTUCKY VOTE
Frankfort, Ky., March 9.—The Kentucky house of representatives late today killed the Ellis evolution bill by a vote of 42 to 41 against the measure.

The vote came after five hours of debate, in which opponents of the measure pleaded with the house not to "bring about a return of intolerance," and the proponents charged that students were being turned into infidels and agnostics by the teaching of evolution at the University of Kentucky.

POURS POISON IN MOUTH OF BABY; REVENGE
Fort Wayne, Ind., March 9.—Police tonight were searching for the person who late today forced poison down the throat of the four months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. George Klepper here. The child was found in a semi-conscious condition by its mother when the latter returned from an errand.

A note turned over to the police which was said by the mother to have been attached to the infant's clothing bore the words "For revenge." Physicians hold out little hope for the child. Mr. and Mrs. Klepper said they knew of no enemies.

Man's Temperature Goes to 112, Then Down to 95
Portland, Me., March 9.—John Biasko was in a generally improved condition at a hospital here tonight, after having undergone remarkable fluctuations in temperature.

Physicians say that for four hours last night his temperature was above 112 degrees. Then it dropped to 95, and today it returned to normal.

UNDERWOOD AND LODGE TARGETS IN TREATY QUIZ

Heckling Brings Out Little Information.

Washington, D. C., March 9.—[Special.]—Democratic senators, led by Robinson of Arkansas, centered a hot fire of cross-examination upon Senator Lodge, Republican leader, and Senator Underwood, Democratic leader, the senate's two representatives at the armament conference in the treaty debate today.

Senator Robinson interrogated Senator Underwood and Senator Lodge in turn, concerning the origin of the four-power treaty. Neither of them was able to answer who wrote the treaty. Both stated that the negotiations were solely in the hands of Secretary of State Hughes. The proceeding is believed to have been without precedent. Seldom, if ever, have the representatives of the nation in an international conference been required to stand before the senate and personally answer questions concerning the negotiations.

Underwood Not Well Informed.
"I can say to the senator," Senator Underwood replied to Robinson's question, "that I am not as well informed about this treaty as I am about some of the other treaties before the conference. When the American delegation first met, the question of our reducing naval armaments in accordance with the instructions of congress, raised the question of the effect of the Anglo-Japanese alliance."

"The discussion then was as to whether the Anglo-Japanese alliance could be avoided, and it was left to the chairman of the delegation (Mr. Hughes) to take the question up with the chairman of the delegations from Great Britain and Japan to see whether they would consider the question of canceling the alliance."

Questions Senator Lodge.
Senator Lodge entered the chamber shortly after Mr. Underwood had concluded his explanation. Turning to the Republican leader, Senator Robinson said, "I now call upon the senator from Massachusetts to state who wrote the four power treaty."

"Many persons," said Senator Lodge. "How many?"
"Four who?"
"Four members of the delegations." "How many drafts were there?"
"I could not say."

Senator Robinson finally gave up the examination, declaring that it was incomprehensible that Senator Lodge and Senator Underwood should know so little about the proceedings of the conference.

AGREES TO TRUCE

Miss Ella Wolf, a nurse, living at 3137 Oakley avenue, who admitted in Judge Morgan's court yesterday that she had waged fictitious war with Mrs. Augusta Frank, 3139 North Oakley avenue. Miss Wolf accused Mrs. Frank of calling her "names." Judge Morgan closed the incident by putting Miss Wolf on peace bonds for a year.

Borah Admits Receiving a Letter from Wilson

Washington, D. C., March 9.—[Special.]—Senator Borah admitted today in response to inquiries that he had received a letter from former President Wilson. He denied, however, a current report that this communication related to the treaties now before the senate. The letter was written in a cordial personal vein and had no reference to official matters.

Mr. Borah declined to give the text of the letter for publication or to suggest that the former President should do so. It is believed that the letter was merely an expression of Mr. Wilson's appreciation of Mr. Borah's recent letter saying cordial things about the Woodrow Wilson Foundation project.

U. S. HEART WITH EUROPE, BUT NOT IN GENOA'S MEET

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., March 9.—(Special.)—Refusal by the American government of the invitation to participate in the forthcoming economic conference at Genoa does not indicate a desire on the part of the Harding administration to close the door on the possibility of American cooperation in the economic rehabilitation of Europe, it was stated in a high administration quarter today.

This government, it was explained, has every sympathy for the European governments in the plight in which they now find themselves. It is felt, however, that not only the agenda of the conference but also the utterances of various European statesmen connected with it plainly show that the intention is to make it a political rather than a purely economic conference in which the United States might properly participate.

The administration believes that a period of "tacit pressure" is necessary before the European chancelleries will come to a complete realization that there can be no solution of Europe's problems until certain fundamental questions are faced.

HEIR, YALE GRID STAR, POET, WEDS FOOTLIGHT STAR

New York, March 9.—(Special.)—Robert Savage, son of the late John A. Savage, a steel manufacturer of Duluth, Minn., arrived at the Biltmore hotel today, proud of the fact that he will be 21 years old in a few days and that he had as a bride Geneva Mitchell, who, despite her 17 years, is one of the bright spots in the Midnight Frolic and "Sally."

GENEVA MITCHELL. (De Gruy Photo.) Mr. Savage's romance began when he saw Miss Mitchell jumping on a pogo stick in the Frolic. After that the door man counted it a last evening when Savage did not show up.

In addition to being an ardent wooer who forgot all about the handicap of not yet being out of prep school, and an athlete with a talent for baseball and football, Mr. Savage writes poetry.

Admits Killing Man "Who Stole His Wife"

Bagdasar Krikorian, 2533 Marimora avenue, confessed yesterday following his arrest by the Cragin police that he shot and killed John Ulaghalian last Sunday. "I killed him because he stole my wife."

FORGET THEIR TROUBLES

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Light, 115 South Spaulding avenue, who took the advice of Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday, mutually forgave each other's faults and promised to forget that they ever wanted a divorce. Both signed an agreement which reads: "It is hereby agreed that neither party named will use profane or opprobrious language or be guilty of any violence henceforth." Judge Sabath told the couple they didn't need lawyers, but they did need a "daddy to give you both a spanking."

HUGHES' REFUSAL DELIGHTS BOTH LONDON, PARIS

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, March 9.—[By Tribune Wireless.]—British officials and politicians are pleased at the terms of Secretary of State Hughes' note to Italy declining to participate in the Genoa conference, feeling that it is directed against the French policy. England has been desirous all along of making the Genoa parley an economic and disarmament conference, but after former Premier Briand's fall it was compelled to yield to Premier Poincaré's demand that most of the important questions be ruled out and politics introduced, the alternative being that the conference would be foregone altogether.

Good for Europe.

The British feel that it will do all Europe good to have a plain statement from the United States that, while it is willing to help Europe, it will not do so until Europe has put its own house in order regarding armaments, balancing budgets, and arriving at a reasonable settlement of the reparations question.

It is believed here that it is quite likely that Mr. Hughes' note will have the desired effect. The Genoa conference—which is not at all certain yet—will, it is held, probably be held by delegates who have had a cold douche, or it may be followed by a real economic and disarmament conference, either in Europe or in Washington.

THE FRENCH VIEW

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright: 1922: By The Chicago Tribune.)
PARIS, March 9.—President Harding's and Secretary of State Hughes' fears that the senate may reject the Washington treaties is regarded in French diplomatic circles as the real reason why the United States will not participate in the Genoa conference. It is realized that Washington hesitates to embark on another conference until it is sure that the senate will endorse the disarmament and Pacific pacts.

The American refusal to take part in the Genoa assembly places the destiny of the economic and financial conference in Premier Poincaré's hands.

LANDIS CITIZENS' BODY TO MEET WITH ALDERMEN

Officials of the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award received word yesterday that the committee of aldermen recently named by Mayor Thompson to investigate the building trades industry will visit the citizens' committee at the latter's offices next Monday.

Fred Mader, president of the Building Trades council, and "Big Tim" Murphy and a delegation of union officials attended the aldermanic hearing yesterday in the council chambers.

The citizens' committee had been invited to attend but the invitation was declined by F. W. Armstrong, general manager, who in a letter to Ald. Thomas Byrne avowed that all questions as to the activities of the citizens' committee would be answered accurately if the council committee would visit the offices of the former. After much debate the aldermen accepted the invitation.

PUBLISHER GIVES A TIP ON MAKING OF NEWSPAPERS

Be Different, Jason Rogers Tells Medillians.

In Chicago the days are not long enough. But when I went from Chicago to New York I found that I could get to the office at 9:30. That's the difference.

Too much of the pedigree stuff is tolerated in the east. Father's son is on the job.

JASON ROGERS.
(To Medill School of Journalism.)

BY EYE WITNESS.

Jason Rogers was once a busy, confident, aggressive figure in the newspaper world of Chicago. Since then he has made something substantial of the old New York Globe, which Noah Webster founded. Yesterday he came back to town and lectured to Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern University on everything from the Audit Bureau of Circulations to shaving soap.

His stimulating discourse was, like his eminent predecessor's book, a bit sleepy, and in that strain it will have to be reported.

Too Much Similarity.

Attend, therefore, to Mr. Jason Rogers, 54 now, iron gray, and still confident.

"Newspapers are too similar. Col. Nelson of the Kansas City Star used to say, 'Don't let the other fellow make your game.' I never look at another New York evening newspaper.

"No matter how many good newspapers there are in a town there's always a chance for the fellow who knows how to make another good one. I don't care what newspaper property you take up or how long it's had the tip or the mumps. You can make something of it by seeing what the other fellow does not do and then doing that.

"How did Ochs make his start in restoring the New York Times? Not with big money, for he didn't have it, but by specializing in a few 'best'—best real estate department, best book reviews, best records of the courts. That was in 1896 and the Times had 15,000 circulation.

Too Much Advertising.

"Wonderful is the facility inherent in advertising! It is the easiest way. There are 24,000,000 families in the United States. To reach them all by postal mail would cost you from three months to a year and you $16 per thousand cards, or a total of $384,000. There are 2,250 English language newspapers in the United States, with a circulation of 28,000,000. In them you can run a seven-line ad once a week for a year for $213,000. That is why advertising has become a profession.

"Despite the efficacy of advertising, we have been in a hysteria of advertising and have carried it to an absurd volume. The solution is to reduce the volume, increase the price.

"Of the 2,250 English language newspapers in the United States, I can assure you that a thousand are on the lookout for good men and good women. That is why I am heartily glad to see you in training for all those jobs.

The Ideal Newspaper.

"If I could afford it I could give you the ideal newspaper and could do it by taking a high percentage of the 'get-there,' the virility, the personality and the pep of the Chicago Tribune.

NEW BATTLE NOW ON

Mrs. Helen Hoech McCallum, whose original divorce bill named another woman.

Mrs. Lester Duval, who recently staged an encounter with Mrs. McCallum in a loop hotel.

New Charges

ANOTHER chapter of the marital tangle of William Wallace McCallum, attorney with offices at 7 West Madison street, was revealed yesterday, when he filed a cross bill for divorce from Mrs. Helen Hoech McCallum. The bill, filed by Attorney John A. Bloomington, charges Mrs. McCallum with misconduct with Lester Duval, 814 Sunnyside avenue, as well as with several other unnamed persons.

Mrs. McCallum recently filed suit for divorce, naming Miss Gertrude Franz as the recipient of her husband's affections. In her bill she asserted that the attorney received an income of $25,000 annually and possessed property valued in excess of $125,000.

Shortly after her suit was filed Mrs. McCallum was discovered by her husband in the Hotel La Salle in company with Duval. Mrs. McCallum and Mrs. Duval attacked each other and were separated by the police.

Mrs. McCallum and Duval were arrested on the complaint of McCallum.

SUSPEND 3 CITY HALL CLERKS IN QUIZ ON GRAFT

Suspension of three city hall clerks, one of whom is an important cog in the Lundin-Thompson Third ward machine, was ordered last night following disclosures in the city civil service commission's investigation of "license graft."

Those suspended are Howard S. Cartwright, one of the right hand men of William A. Bither, Lundin-Thompson Third ward committeeman; Walter R. Holton, until recently in charge of licenses in the city collector's office, and James B. Kelly, a clerk in the city clerk's office. Cartwright was married to the divorced wife of Municipal Judge Lawrence Jacobs a year ago after both Judge Jacobs and the first Mrs. Cartwright had obtained uncontested divorce decrees.

Testimony on License Fees.

Civil Service Commissioners Frazier and Ames spent several hours yesterday questioning A. J. Cooper, president, and Frederick T. Westberg, manager of the Harmony Cafeteria company, and Samuel Solomon, said to be a salesman for a wholesale grocery concern.

Solomon, according to Mr. Frazier, admitted that he received $650 from Mr. Westberg several months ago, to be used in buying licenses for the five Harmony cafeterias.

The license fees for the five places totaled $750. Solomon says he gave the $650 in cash received from Mr. Westberg to Cartwright, who later turned over to Solomon the $750 worth of licenses.

Only $75 Was Paid.

A check of the records of city clerk's and city clerk's offices show the commission's say, that only $75 was paid for the five licenses, valued at $750.

"We do not yet know who got the other $675 of the $750 alleged to have been paid by Solomon," Mr. Frazier said. "We are still investigating."

Holton, it is alleged, issued the receipt for the $75 paid for the licenses and Kelly issued the licenses. The stub in the clerk's license record book showed an entry of $15, instead of $150, the price of each license, but this figure was changed, after the city auditor had been through the department, to read $150, so that it would conform with the figures on the faces of the licenses issued to the Harmony cafeterias, the investigators said.

Cartwright Reported "Sick."

As soon as these discrepancies had been uncovered Commissioner Frazier sent for Cartwright. At the health department it was said that he had reported "sick." At the Metropolitan Police Department he was reported "sick." It was said last night that Mr. Cartwright had "gone out."

SHOOTING SENTENCED.

J. R. Brown, 420 South Halsted street, and Peter Pentis, 744 South Halsted street, charged with shooting, were each sentenced to thirty days in the House of Correction and fined $25 in the Maxwell street court yesterday.

GHOST HUNTER, PUZZLED, EYES MARY ELLEN, 15

Caledonia Mills, N. S., March 9.—Apparently angered at the stubbornness of the "Antigone ghost," who has thus far refused to make his acquaintance, Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, New York scientist and director of the American Institute of Scientific Research, declared somewhat testily tonight that he would stay on the job until he had found out something.

Dr. Prince said he was working on the theory that he has a "poltergeist" to deal with. Poltergeist is German for "racketing spirit," being in scientific terms "phenomena attributed to the actions of a spirit."

Dr. Prince has made no secret of his desire to interview closely Mary Ellen, 15, adopted daughter of the MacDonalda, who was present at the mysterious happenings which drove the family from its home in the dead of winter.

Mary Ellen, however, was not present in the house the night Harold Whidden, a Halifax reporter, and P. O. Carroll, a detective, slept there and claimed to have been slapped by the mysterious one.

THE CRIPPLED ARM OF JUSTICE.

Jury service is not pleasant and it is easily avoided. Even if a citizen is not excused before he is examined in court he frequently can escape by making himself undesirable to either the prosecution or the defense. Generally the better type of citizenship he represents the less the defense in a bad criminal case wants him.

The legal exemptions from jury service are numerous and they involve much of the best community intelligence, men whose professions are supposed to require their time constantly. Many business men can find time for a trip or a vacation, but they feel that their business will go to ruin if they give two or three weeks or less time to the state in jury service.

They dread the confinement, the interruption of normal life, the interference with occupation, and all the vexations imposed upon a juror, and they escape service. The quality of juries is reduced and sometimes it gets down to a level which ought not to be entrusted with the responsibility Illinois law gives a jury.

A great deal of the work of the police and the prosecutor can be nullified by the men in the jury box. Community sentiment which demands better protection and then condones the shirking of duties necessary to citizenship is inconsistent and the community pays for it.

With reputable, intelligent, honest citizens avoiding the jury box as if it were the county jail it is not so difficult for the defense in a bad criminal case to get the jury it wants. Then there is a miscarriage of justice, a criminal goes free, the prosecutors rage and the police say that it is no use to get criminals.

This puts one arm of justice in a sling and it is under that arm that criminals make their escape. State's Attorney Crowe is trying to awaken a sense of responsibility and obligation in this respect. The jury system imposes enough handicaps upon the administration of criminal justice without being weakened by the refusal of citizens to give their time to the state.

JESTING AT DEATH
BY WIRELESS.

Dramas of the wireless have been many since the world was thrilled by the story of Blinn on the sinking Republic calling for aid out of the sea. Now a report that a ship is asking for help and that the vessels closest by are turning to her relief is almost a commonplace of marine news. That first thriller was a rescue; the latest is reported as a tragedy.

The Associated Press sponsors the story, from New York. The news agency does not purport to give news as literature or drama but as statement of facts. This was the story of a radio operator jested in a gale as his ship was sinking. It was contained in the radio log of the Danish steamer Estonia, which made a six hour fight against the gale to reach the position of the Grontoft, the sinking Norwegian vessel, but came too late. Hansen, the radio operator on the Estonia, had the record of messages from the Grontoft.

The operator on the Grontoft was heard from by the Estonia first at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon his ship was gone with her crew of thirty, and in the conversations between the two operators the man on the sinking ship jested as if he were in a leaky canoe on a knee deep creek from his first to his final message: "We are sinking stern first. The boats are smashed. Can't hold out any longer. The skipper dictated that—he ought to know—where did I put my hat—sorry we can't wait for any longer—pressing business elsewhere."

Hansen, the Estonia operator, by that time, according to the story, was tuned to a lyric state and asked the man laughing at death: "What damn of lanes brought thee forth, to jest at dawn with death?" There was no answer from the jester and the story ends with the Estonia cruising over the reported spot and finding no trace of wreckage. A great sea story, as fiction or fact. We hope it was not a fake—as to the laughing operator and the lyric operator—but fake or fact, a great story of the sea.

THE NEW POSTMASTER
GENERAL.

Dr. Hubert Work has taken the oath of office as postmaster general, succeeding Will H. Hays, to whom he has been first assistant. He enters upon duties which probably have a more direct daily bearing upon the affairs of the people of this country than those of any other officer in the cabinet.

His chief and perhaps even his sole official duty is to see that the United States mails move quickly, safely, and accurately. The matters of economy, for the benefit of the public which pays for such service, and of justice for the postoffice department's employees engaged in the work, are details of the main task. It is a big job and gives one man plenty to do.

As was proved by Mr. Hays, it can be done best if it is not interfered with by the assumption of tasks which do not properly belong to it, such as made the postal administration of Secretary Burleson an abomination. Of these self-imposed duties Burleson was the worst evil. Instead of expediting the mails Mr. Burleson delayed and hampered them, and with them delayed and hampered the free communication which is an essential of democratic government.

It was not only bad for the mail service but bad for the principles of a democratic society. Mr. Hays largely corrected that tendency. It is to be expected that Dr. Work, trained in the same school and cooperating with the same national administration, will follow the same general principles. If he does his administration is virtually certain to be a success.

AVOIDING EUROPEAN ENTANGLEMENTS.

The text of the state department's formal refusal to participate in the international conference which is to meet in Genoa on April 1 puts the situation so clearly that few in this country can object to it. It forms a complete answer not only to the European countries which seek to engage the United States in their restoration but to the Americans who have maintained that it is a high duty of this country to participate in the restoration of war torn Europe.

Mr. Hughes makes our position clear in the single sentence: "It has been found impossible to escape the conclusion that the proposed conference is not primarily an economic conference, as questions appear to have been excluded from consideration without the satisfactory determination of which the chief causes of economic disturbance must continue to operate, but is rather a conference of political character in which the government of the United States could not helpfully participate."

In diplomatic language that means we are not willing to devote our resources to helping European countries until they show their good faith by helping themselves, and by eliminating some of their domestic burdens so that our aid may go direct to the points of greatest need. That is fair enough. It means that if Europe should entice us into conference in such circumstances as laid down for Genoa, any economic help which we might give would be likely to be diverted from the needs which we might seek to fill, and we would find ourselves tacitly acquiescing in various European local policies, and taking sides on questions in which we have no direct interest, and which would entangle us in a mass of European politics.

Although the secretary of state does not specify the questions which appear to have been excluded which lead to his conclusion, it is well known that they pertain to deflation, balancing of budgets, reduction of continental armies and adjustment of reparations within the ability of Germany to pay. With these things left out it is clear that the fundamental features of an economic conference are left out. It therefore is not really an economic conference. It must then be political. We do well to refrain from such a meeting.

THE MAYOR'S VISION.

Mayor Thompson, speaking to 1,000 Chicago business men in favor of the evolution of the Pageant of Progress into an all-year exposition, says he "likes to visualize a year-around exposition growing from last year's pageant, which will enormously boost industry not only in Chicago but throughout the whole Mississippi valley."

We also like to visualize such an enormous boosting of industry of Chicago. But we fear that important things are being overlooked in the mayor's vision. Some of the things which make a great industrial community are central location, transportation of raw and finished products, availability to adequate markets, competent and sufficient supplies of labor, minimum overhead expenses, and fair dealing.

Chicago has some of those things. It hasn't all of them. An important feature is overhead expense. An important part of overhead is taxation. Under Mayor Thompson this item has increased more than 100 per cent in six years. It has increased 45 per cent in the last year, despite the fact that expenses in all other lines were going down. If he wants his vision of industrial progress to come true, he can do much more for it by reducing taxes than by promoting an exposition.

Competent and sufficient supplies of labor is another important item. To maintain that requires adequate housing. High taxes discourage the provision of such housing. Rapid and comfortable transportation of workers to and from their work are equally necessary to the necessary task of providing factories with labor. That can be assured in Chicago only through a subway system. The use of transportation as a political issue will not do it. If the mayor wants his vision of industrial progress to come true he can do much more for it by building a subway than by promoting an exposition.

Fair dealing with business men who invest their money in Chicago is another requisite to industrial progress. If they are hampered by petty officials, holders or appointees for political reasons they will not come to Chicago. The mayor can do much more to make his vision come true by improving the administration's reputation for dealing with business men than by promoting an exposition. The Tribune is not opposed to the exposition. Probably it would be a very good thing. But other things closer to the job which Mayor Thompson was elected to fill are of greater importance.

Editorial of the Day

INSANITY AS A CRIMINAL EXCUSE.

[Minneapolis Journal.]

Twenty-five years ago it was an unusual thing in American courts to hear the plea of insanity as a defense in criminal cases. Then the accused stood before the bar with a plea of guilty or not guilty and the case was tried on its merits.

Today all is changed. The criminal now turns to the insanity plea as the last means to soften his sentence or to furnish a loophole for escape from justice. Too often the plea works.

It is a practice that tends to undermine law and order in this country. How the criminal can atone for his sins when the lawyers are forever digging up excuses that place the blame elsewhere is problematical. And as long as it is a temporary safe haven for the professional criminal, chief justice of the Criminal court of Chicago, to a medical body the other day:

I want to warn you men not to place too much faith in the rapidly growing propaganda that all prisoners are insane. The present cry is that an insane streak runs through all criminals. From my experience I would say the reverse is true. As a rule, men who are brought into my court for committing major offenses against the law are usually smart.

The Chicago courts have just furnished a good example in turning down the last minute plea of a youthful murderer. In so doing they have upheld justice, and have notified criminals that they cannot violate laws without paying the penalty. If only more American courts would do likewise there might be more respect for laws in this country.

Thieves broke into the Sigma Chi house a bracelet worth $5, and other articles were reported.

Sigma Chi is, as of course you know, a he-tel, but the next thing these awful bandits will be breaking into one of the men's fraternity houses and carrying off all their vanity bags, rouge, galoshes, and lipsticks. I am just worried to death for fear that some morning we will find that some of the men's fraternities have reported to the police that they had been badly frightened by a Peeping Lix looking right into their windows.

THE FLAPPER HAD ITS HAIR BOBBED
SATURDAY.

The sun did not stand still, no mountains shook.
The streams flowed on as they have done for aye.
No stars fell from the firmament, and yet
The flapper had its hair bobbed Saturday.

Do you think that it looks better bobbed this way?
Don't you really think I ought to wear a net?
Isn't it a little longer on the right side?
Wouldn't it look funny—dressed up as a barrette?
Don't you think it makes me look like Norma Talmadge?

I think it looks as cute as most of the girls'.
Wouldn't it look better if I fluffed it higher?
Should I leave it straight or put it up in curls?
I don't know, but I don't think I'm going to like it.
I think it makes my face look full, don't you?
Oh, I hope that Eddie likes it when he sees it.
Ooh, if he don't, I don't know what I'll do.
Oh, don't you think she left it too long here?
Oh, wouldn't it look stunning with a wave?
The nervous strain, when it was cut, was awful—
I just swooped bucketful, but I was brave.

Strange as it may seem the sun kept right on shining.

The moon came up in quite its usual way.
The stars still shone serene and high, although
The flapper had its hair bobbed Saturday.

COUSIN JOHN.

THE PHILANTHROPIC TRAIN CALLER.

Some few paragraphs back along the highway of time, I used to ride on the Chicago Elevated. My point of impingement on the course of that more distant utility was at the Madison and Wabash station.

There was a train caller there who was a man of parts and a philosopher. When the Ravenswood express appeared in the office he would announce the imminence of the Ravenswood express. When the stout crew of the Evanston express tacked their ship toward his dock, he would proclaim the arrival of a train for Evanston.

Now, if there is one thing which more than any other thing accents the provincialism of the city dweller, it is the feeling of bland superiority which he draws from exact and familiar acquaintance with the nomenclature of his village. He feels that this exact knowledge sets him definitely apart from the outlander—the slick.

One day I held speech with the Herald of Arrivals.

"Captain," I addressed him (being desirous of his attention), "why so heavy on the Gs which are not?"

"I'll tell you," he told me. "Most of these people work all day long in stores and offices at toll which submerges their individuality and impresses them with their unimportance. I am giving them a chance to feel superior to somebody at least once a day. It cheers 'em up. I'm a married man myself and I know what happens to one who goes home feeling lousy."

A BRIGHT'S DISEASE TEST.

HERE is an easy way to find out whether or not you are headed for Bright's disease, or have already arrived at that port.
That is, it is easy in a sense that the test requires no great skill on the part of the investigator and no special apparatus.

All the apparatus required is a graduated glass which measures fluids. One marked off for ounces will do, particularly if one remembers that one pint is about 500 c. c. and one quart about 1,000 c. c.
It will be somewhat better if the equipment also includes an apparatus for taking specific gravity. This can be bought for not much more than a dollar, and its use can be learned in ten minutes.
The test is to discover whether the day urine exceeds the night urine in quantity, and, if so, how much. A normal person should pass three or four times as much urine during the day as during the night. A person with a well-developed case of Bright's disease will sometimes pass more urine at night than during the day.

Earlier stage Bright's or coming Bright's gives proportions in between.
That is about all there is to it, except that the test is somewhat more valuable if the specific gravity of the urine is taken each time it is passed, or if one day specimen and one night specimen are taken.

Eight a. m. to 8 p. m. is regarded as day and 8 p. m. to 8 a. m. as night.
The start is made after complete voiding at 7:35 a. m. of course, this procedure is thrown away. The last of the quantity is voided at 8 p. m. and the last of the night output at 8 a. m.
Just a few precautions are necessary.
It is best not to eat a heavy evening meal, especially one containing a large amount of meat. This increases the amount of urine voided during the next five hours.

It is best not to drink an excessive quantity of fluid with the evening meal or shortly thereafter. This likewise increases the amount of urine voided. Increase it is better to distribute the drinking of water and other fluids as evenly as possible between getting up at about 8 a. m. and going to bed about 10 p. m.

If the kidneys are sound, the amount of day urine will be at least three times that of the night urine.
If Bright's disease is just around the bend, the proportion will be about two to one.

If it is already at hand, the quantities may be very small.
If it is advanced, the night quantity may be 35 per cent higher than the day.
If the amount of night urine is high, a low protein diet may decrease it. Plenty of rest will likewise decrease it. "Zest to bed" is a great cure for Bright's disease.

If this simple test becomes generally known and people generally make use of it, many will discover they have

Bright's disease at a time when the disease is easily remedied.
Many will find that the night urination, which they are now so much frightened, thinking that it means Bright's disease, means nothing more than bladder trouble or prostate trouble, or nervousness.
Frequent urination is not a symptom of Bright's disease.

THE MYSTERY GOES DOUBLED.
R. Q. writes: "I would like to know what causes my hands to swell in hot and cold weather."
"I notice you may fruit in good for constipation. I tried it and am forced to use other means to undo the mess the fruit got me into. Fruit never has worked my bowels and some things which others dare not touch, such as uncooked cheese, is all right for me and gets a movement.
I do not understand it at all."

REPLY.
1. Careful analysis of your urine might show that you have Bright's disease, but I do not think so.
As a rule the hands swell in hot weather and contract in cold. This is by reason of the distribution of fluid in the tissues and is probably under the control of the vasomotor system. So far you are like other people.

If your hands swell in cold weather you have something akin to Raynaud's disease or to frost bite. The disorder is in the vasomotor system.
I do not know what you can do unless it is to bathe daily in cold water followed by a vigorous rub.

Neither do I, but if you are that way, follow your rules instead of those of the other fellow. Cheese is not as constipating as many people think.

BREAST FEEDING IS BEST.
M. E. writes: Kindly let me know how to feed a baby 7 weeks old on grade A milk. It has been fed on five ounces of cream (top of bottle) and fifteen ounces of water and nine teaspoons of Maltose.

REPLY.
A baby 7 weeks old can take a mixture of 7 ounces whole milk, 13 ounces boiled water and 4 ounces sugar.
Feed at 3 hour intervals. Give four ounces at a feeding. Change the formula once a week.

It is unfortunate that you weaned the child.
It is more liable to cold, pneumonia and other infections and also to bowel trouble than a breast fed baby.

NURSE'S LITTLE TEST.
M. A. writes: "A few days ago I was given a shot, or hypodermic injection, to immunize me against colds. The doctor explained that my resistance was not great enough to overcome a cold when I got one."

REPLY.
"Then an old nurse said: 'No child of mine would ever be given a shot.'"
"What do you think about it?"

Maybe the old nurse is childish. There are many jokers in the world.
Vaccination against colds is harmless.
Protein vaccination against colds will be effective and will be in general use.
At the present time the majority of physicians do not think it effective.

they would probably prove that the teeth were a reasonable set and that you were not persistent enough to use them.

CONDITION REMEDIED.
Chicago, March 5.—[Friend of the People.]—I would like to report condition of alley running alongside our property.
Ashes are being dumped so close to sidewalk as to actually obstruct the way for people to pass. Other refuse is piled in this place also, and the sight is a disgrace. Would be very thankful if anything could be done to strictly prohibit any dumping refuse in the particular part of alley, as it spoils appearance of our front part of property.

H. A. K.
Alley has been thoroughly cleaned and owner of building on the southeast corner of to clean up the alley and to get rid of vicious proper receptacles for garbage and ashes.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED.
Chicago, March 4.—[Friend of the People.]—This is a nice neighborhood, and there is absolutely no excuse for the janitors dumping refuse and burning garbage and papers in this alley. Why, in the name of common sense, are they allowed to flagrantly violate all the laws of decency and order? They have been warned time after time to get proper receptacles for the rubbish and to use them. These warnings have no effect whatever—they laugh at them. Here is where a few arrests and fines would have a wonderful effect.

C. P. H.
Notice has been served on all violators to discontinue dumping in the alley. It is impossible for us to maintain a clean condition unless we at least have the helpful cooperation of those concerned.

dents in the room to see the operation.
Could I refuse to pay the bill? A. J. K.

We would advise to better advantage if you had stated the reason that he gave for excluding you. If the operation was critical and you were of an extensible temperament it would seem that the emergency would justify the doctor that he deserves.

U. S. MEDICAL SCHOOLS BEST, DOCTOR AVERS

Europe Comes Here to Study, He Says.

American medical institutions were called the best in the world yesterday by Dr. Frank Billings, nationally known Chicago physician.

"It is no longer necessary for the graduate of an American medical college to finish his education in France, England, or Austria," said Dr. Billings. "There was a time when our students attended foreign universities. The reverse is true today. The man from Europe now must come to America if he wants the best, whether it be surgery, clinical work, or hospital training."

Addresses Meet Today.

Dr. Billings as president of the American conference on hospital service will address the congress on medical education, public health, and hospitals at the Congress hotel this morning. The conference, which has been in session since Monday, ends today.

"American institutions have advanced rapidly in recent years," Dr. Billings continued, "but it has been but recently that medical authorities from abroad have recognized our supremacy. The great advantages of our schools and hospitals are now universally recognized."

Urges Children "Know Food."

W. B. Owen, chairman of the joint committee appointed by the National Education and American Medical associations, urged that the public school system be utilized to teach the simple truths of hygiene and public health to the people before the congress earlier in the day. His theory was that the children would readily take up the new principles and pass them on to their parents.

Proved in War, He Says.

"This was proved during the war when Herbert Hoover put the food card idea across by appealing to the school children."

"Humans need overhauling whether they are sick or not," declared Dr. Haven Emerson of New York City in the course of an address on periodic health examinations. "Humans are like engines. They develop a knock every so often and it is the business of the physician to tell them about it before anything serious breaks."

"Usually a man never calls a doctor until he has a pain. That is the wrong idea. If the doctors were given an opportunity to look the public over every few months there would be much less sickness. In a district in New York City where we introduced the examination idea we reduced the death rate for babies under 1 year by 50 per cent. That is worth while."

WRECK OF NAVY TO BE OPPOSED BY THE SENATE

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., March 9.—[Special.]—Republican leaders in the senate have decided to stand by the navy and make every effort to save it from the cutthroat economy which the house has decided to apply.

Senator Lodge, Republican leader, and Senator Ford, Democrat of Washington, acting chairman of the naval affairs committee, have come to the conclusion that they will endeavor to rally every resource of administration strength to prevent the wreck of the navy.

They believe that with President Harding's aid they will be able to convince the country that the drastic reductions proposed by the house would be most unwise.

If the house program goes through senate leaders fear that the 5-5-3 ratio would be destroyed and that the United States would be placed in a position of inferiority to Japan on the high seas.

The house is proposing to cut the naval personnel to about 60,000, and the total appropriation to about $200,000,000, against approximately $400,000,000 for last year.

The navy department contends that it cannot maintain the navy upon a sound and efficient basis without 80,000 enlisted men. Senate leaders believe that this should be the absolute minimum. Even this number, they say, would require the docking of some ship badly needed.

DAVIS PUTS IT UP TO MINE OWNERS TO HALT STRIKE

Joint Conference Is First Necessary Move.

BY GRAFTON WILCOX.

Washington, D. C., March 9.—(Special.)—If the coal operators of the central competitive field do not consent to a joint conference with the miners over a new agreement, they will be defying the wish of the federal government.

Although the operators have been saying that there has been no effort made by the federal government to induce them to confer with the miners, it is clear that the government has been making every effort to bring about a settlement of the coal strike.

"Duty to the Public." "The government has no desire to interfere unduly," said Secretary Davis, "but having not only the interests of the employers and employed in mind, it also has a duty to safeguard the interests of the people, who will be seriously affected by the suspension of coal mining."

The secretary authorized the statement that he is in direct communication with representatives of the bituminous operators of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and western Pennsylvania. He said it was his "earnest desire that both the miners and operators should carry out the spirit and intent of the resolution adopted at the New York conference of March, 1920, which provided for a preliminary conference to meet prior to April 1, 1922, to arrange a time and place for a meeting to take up and consider the making of a new agreement."

"No Sense in Delaying." Secretary Davis declared he "could not see why, in the interest of common sense, the two sides to the coal controversy cannot get together and adjust their differences and save the country from the costly results of a strike."

His action in appealing to the coal operators, the miners already having expressed willingness to confer, is known to have the hearty approval of the President.

"None of the government officials in touch with the threatened coal strike situation," says a labor department statement, "can see any objections to a council table gathering of those directly interested in the bituminous coal industry, and particularly in the present situation, when it is a part of the last agreement and in line with long time practice in the coal industry."

Favor Davis' Proposal.

Dispatches received tonight indicate that Mr. Davis' proposal has been received generally with favor. President John Lewis of the United Mine Workers, President Frank Farrington of the Illinois miners, and Rice Miller, president of the Illinois operators, all indicated willingness to attend. The Pittsburgh Producers' association, however, indicated opposition to the proposal.

COP'S SWEATER AND OVERCOAT RESCUE 2 EVES

Everything is now lovely, but for several hours last night the Misses Dorothy and Tootsie Maxwell, late of Caspar, Wyo., now residing at the St. Elmo hotel, thought otherwise.

Last week they met "Jim" Bryan and "Joe" Smith. An appointment was made for last night for an auto ride. Smith had a bottle of liquor with him.

After riding several hours they grew alarmed and demanded to get out of the car. Instead Smith drove to a garage at 84th and Baker street. The girls were forced into the garage and divested of all their clothing. The men left.

After a few hours Patrolman William Finn of the South Chicago station rescued them, with the aid of his overcoat and sweater.

Family of 8 Unconscious; Gas Jet Open; All Saved

When Frank Frangella of 9055 Dobson avenue, owner of a saloon, returned home late last night he found his wife Helen and their seven children, from 4 to 16 years old, unconscious with a gas jet open. Sgt. James Vail of the Burnside station, who accompanied Frangella, assisted in carrying the victims into the fresh air and applied first aid until the pulmotor arrived, when they were revived. The police think the jet was opened accidentally.

Treasury Sees Improved Business, 'Due to Continue'

Washington, D. C., March 9.—Improved business conditions throughout the country continuing into the summer were foreseen today by high treasury officials. The marked improvement recently in the general situation, officials said, bears evidence of permanency, and they added that a continuation of the gradual upward trend through the spring and into the summer months was to be expected.

SUNSWET PRUNE CAKE FILLING: Drain cooked Sunswet Prunes, remove the stones and measure 1 cupful. Chop fine, add 1/2 cup orange marmalade, 1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts, 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Mix well and spread between layers.

SUNSWET PRUNE BREAD PUDDING: One cup Sunswet Prunes, washed, soaked, pitted and put through food grinder, 2 eggs, beaten; add 1/2 cup sugar, 2 cups scalded milk, 1/2 teaspoon each orange and lemon extract, prunes and 1 thick slice of bread cut in small cubes. Pour in buttered baking dish, set in pan boiling water. Bake in moderate oven until custard is firm in center and bread is browned. Serve hot or cold.

SUNSWET PRUNE COFFEE CAKE: Two eggs well beaten; 1 cup sugar; 1/2 cup milk; 2 cups sifted flour; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 1/2 cup melted shortening; 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Beat eggs, add sugar, sift flour and baking powder; add to mixture gradually with milk, beat until smooth, then add melted shortening and extract. Pour into two greased layer cake pans, cover entire top with uncooked pitted Sunswet Prunes. Bake in moderate oven.

SUNSWET PRUNE SALAD—PINEAPPLE DRESSING: Cooked Sunswet Prunes, pitted and drained; allow 4 prunes and 1 slice of pineapple for each serving. Place the pineapple on a crisp lettuce leaf. Fill prunes with a small portion of salad dressing and arrange around.

SUNSWET PRUNE STEAMED PUDDING: 1 cup soft bread crumbs; 1 cup chopped apples; 1/2 cup brown sugar; 1 cup chopped, uncooked Sunswet Prunes; 1/2 cup shredded citron; 1 cup flour sifted with 1/2 teaspoon each of salt, soda, nutmeg, cinnamon, cloves and allspice; 1/2 cup molasses; 3 eggs, beaten separately. Mix in the order given, folding in the beaten white of egg at the last. Grease a pudding mold, pour in the mixture, having mold only two-thirds filled. Adjust cover and place on a rack in a kettle of boiling water and steam about three hours, having water boiling constantly. The water should be about two-thirds of the depth of the mold.

THE TRIBUNE'S WANT AD SLOGAN

MRS. L. Z. wanted a maid . . . a particular kind of a maid, and this is the Want Ad she inserted to tell prospective maids about her offer:

MAID—LIGHT HOUSEWORK. 0000 IRVING Park Blvd.

But there were no replies! . . . So she adopted The Tribune's Want Ad slogan, "The more you tell, the quicker you sell," and gave more information in this Want Ad:

MAID—CARE FOR 4 YR. OLD BOY AND light work in small apt. Family, no washing, no cooking. 0000 IRVING Park Blvd., 1st apt. Kildare 0000.

She received twenty-three calls in response to this second Want Ad! And not only was the volume of response increased, but a more intelligent, better class of girls responded! Showing that it pays to give your prospect, no matter what the offer, a definite idea of what you have. Whenever you use a Want Ad, remember The Tribune's slogan!

NEBRASKA SHOWING P GOVERNOR

$60,000,000
Value Since No

BY ARTHUR E.

From the executive office of Gov. Samuel R. McKelvie issued last night an announcement which appears to show a clear line on the price process than most of the forecasts poured forth since the election. McKelvie, tightrope walker and the minor prize at least $60,000,000, has been added to the value held by Nebraska farmers. In addition the exchange has been enhanced by the demand for loans to the state.

There is profit now in branches of farming. McKelvie. "There is every prospect that business in this field will show quite an improvement during the months to come." "For instance, the increase of the wheat crop to 400, but nearly all the wheat was sold before November, the combined value of corn, cattle and over $25,000,000, and these farmers' hands or have been within the last sixty decrease in value of poultry products aggregated makes there is still a comfortable profit in these branches.

"The tabulation does not value of products of 1920. This is quite a factor, for in corn carryover is estimated to be per cent, or about $5,000, which, figured at the price of 37 cents per bushel is $24,000,000. The increase of this carryover, a Nov. 1 and March 1 is near 400.

All Factors Not Cleared. While the foregoing factors indicate the reason for business recovery, the full effect of the factors working to normal prosperity are not understood.

"For instance, the War Production has put about $12,000,000.

NEBRASKA FARMS SHOWING PROFIT, GOVERNOR AVERS

$50,000,000 Added to Value Since November.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

From the executive office at Lincoln, Gov. Samuel R. McKelvie of Nebraska issued last night an analysis of farm conditions, which appears to give a clearer line on the price readjustment process than most of the tons of statistics, predictions, dope sheets and forecasts poured forth since New Year's by financial experts, economists, press-agitators, tightrope walkers, soothsayers and the minor prophets.

At least $50,000,000, he says, has been added to the value of products sold by Nebraska farmers since Nov. 1. In addition the exchange value has been enhanced by the drop in things which the farmer buys. The $12,000,000 put into the state by the war finance corporation has eased the financial strain; by "feeding his corn" the farmer has been able to come out better than he fancied when prices collapsed; bank deposits are increasing and demand for loans is diminishing.

Profits Return, He Says.
"There is profit now in nearly all branches of farming," says Gov. McKelvie. "There is every reason to expect that business in this immediate field will show quite an unusual improvement during the weeks and months to come."

"For instance, the increase in the value of the wheat crop was $18,000,000, but nearly all the marketable wheat was sold before Nov. 1. On the other hand, the combined increase in the value of corn, cattle and hogs is over $22,000,000, and these are in the farmers' hands or have been disposed of within the last sixty days. The decrease in value of poultry and dairy products aggregates rather large, but there is still a comfortable margin of profit in these branches."

"The tabulation does not include the value of products carried over from 1920. This is quite an important factor, for in corn alone, the carryover is estimated to have been 25 per cent, or about 45,000,000 bushels, each, figured at the present farm price of 27 cents per bushel, amounts to $12,000,000. The increase in the value of this carryover, as between Nov. 1 and March 1 is nearly $10,000,000."

All Factors Not Clear.
"While the foregoing facts clearly indicate the reason for Nebraska's business recovery, the full significance of the factors working to bring about small prosperity are not yet fully understood."

"For instance, the War Finance corporation has put about $12,000,000 into

HARDING SENDS WORD FOR MEMORIAL MEET FOR LATE COL. YOUNG

Col. John V. Clinin will deliver the principal address at memorial services to be held at Wendell Phillips High school in honor of the late Col. Charles Young at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Col. Young was the ranking colored officer in the United States army at the time of his death at Lagos, Nigeria, West Africa. He was one of the three colored men to graduate from West Point. He campaigned in Cuba, Haiti, Liberia, and on the Mexican border.

President Harding has sent a message to be read at the meeting, asserting "it is a pleasure to testify to my very high opinion for Col. Young." Gen. Pershing has written, "Col. Young's career should ever be an inspiration to his people," and paid tribute to the late officer's "exemplary military character."

The state since Nov. 1. This money, being in the form of long time loans, has greatly relieved the strain on the banks and has eased the demands upon the farmer for immediate liquidation. "This additional credit enabled the farmer to market his crop at a much higher price, both by feeding it to live stock and by holding it until more favorable prices obtained."

CALL LEADERS TO TAKE A HAND IN CRIME WAR

Sims and Crowe Plan Meetings.

said Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the crime commission. "There should be more judges in the Criminal court. There are over 2,000 cases on the docket there now and the number is constantly growing."

Warden Wesley Westbrook of the county jail, in an address to the Foot Products club at the Hotel Sherman, charged 50 per cent of the "present miscarriages of justice" to the general public and the other 50 per cent to "the handling of cases by careless judges and state's attorneys, crooked politicians, and indifferent policemen."

"Plenty of Fixing." State's Attorney Crowe declared he did not consider Capt. Westbrook's statements in the light of an attack upon his office.

"There has been plenty of fixing in recent cases, but I am positive none of it has been done within my office," he said. "However, a special grand jury is coming in and I am going to turn the spotlight on everything and we shall see just who has been responsible for perjured testimony and the influencing of jurors either by money or through intimidation."

Mr. Crowe held up the acquittal of Thomas Walsh of the murder of Adolph George, saloonkeeper, as one result of delayed trials. He was asked why former Judges Theodore Brentano and John E. Owens and other politicians who were reported to have been in the George Weinsteube at the time of the murder were not called as witnesses at the trial.

"We summoned before the grand jury every man whose name was given to us as having been a witness of the shooting," he said. "Both Judge Brentano and Judge Owens were called and denied they had been in the saloon at the time."

tano and Judge Owens were called and denied they had been in the saloon at the time.

Mr. Crowe fired another shot in his controversy with Judge John J. Sullivan when he directed Special Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northrup to prepare a certificate of prejudice for presentation to Chief Justice Kiekham Scanlan in support of a motion to transfer all pending labor cases from Judge Sullivan to some other court. This request will be filed today or tomorrow.

Defense Changes Plan.

Attorneys Thomas Nash and Michael Ahern of counsel for Walsh, announced they had decided not to ask Judge Scanlan to appoint a special state's attorney to present the evidence to the special grand jury instead of Assistant State's Attorney Edwin J. Raber. Instead, they said, they will ask Judge Scanlan or the Chicago Bar association to assign some impartial lawyer to the special grand jury "to see that politics does not enter into the deliberations of the jury or the presentation of the evidence."

Meanwhile the selection of jurors in the trial of Thomas Walsh for the murder of George Gast, a waiter in the George Weinsteube, proceeded in Judge Sullivan's court. Four jurors had been chosen when court adjourned.

REALTY EXPERT PREDICTS A BIG BOULEVARD BOOM

A great future for North Michigan avenue was predicted yesterday by Earl Shilton, realty expert, in a talk at a luncheon of the Gyro club at the Hamilton club. Beauty is as essential in modern business as in the arts, he said, and modern business men recognize the fact.

"More than $55,000,000 capital investment has gone into North Michigan avenue property in the last three years," he said, "and millions of additional capital is involved in projects now under way. These vast sums are being invested because the avenue offers certain aesthetic values that no other Chicago district offers—beautiful surroundings, light, air, sunshine, freedom from smoke, dust, and the roar of heavy traffic."

Night School to Show Father How Son Studies

Fathers' evening will mark an innovation at the Lincoln school, Evanston, tonight. Dad will come to see just what his boy or girl is doing during the day. School will be dismissed in the afternoon.

Here's the Happy Way to Rid Yourself of Constipation PERMANENTLY!

Bran is the most wonderful health food known! Nine-tenths of human ills would be eliminated if all the people would eat bran regularly, because bran corrects constipation! Constipation can be blamed as the starting point of 90% of the sickness!

Bran in deliciously palatable form—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled—will give permanent relief from constipation if eaten regularly each day. We guarantee that results will prove astounding if at least two tablespoonsful are eaten daily. Chronic cases should use as much as is needed.

Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation. It is not only sure effective as a permanent relief if eaten regularly, but it is the ideal way to correct constipation through food!

KELLOGG TOASTED CORN FLAKE CO., Battle Creek, Mich.

Kellogg's Bran is not a cathartic—it is nature's food that will not only delight your palate but safeguard your health! Start the children eating Kellogg's Bran. It builds strong bodies! Serve bran to your family as a cereal or on other cereals! Use it generously making muffins, macaroons, raisin bread, or in a hundred appetizing ways! Pancakes made of Kellogg's Bran are the best you ever ate!

The consistent use of Kellogg's Bran will clear up a pimply skin and purify the blood.

Kellogg's Bran, eaten regularly, prevents a bad breath from the stomach and intestines. Your grocer has it.

P. S. By the way, it's a happy-health-habit to keep Kellogg's Bran on the dining table all the time! Sprinkle it on your food!

LEGION NOTES

La Grange post will hold a rally this evening. Commander McAuley and Vice Commander Schick and Adj. Settle will be guests of the evening.

The Khaki and Blue club will hold a dance tomorrow evening, in a talk at a luncheon of the Gyro club at the Hamilton club. Beauty is as essential in modern business as in the arts, he said, and modern business men recognize the fact.

WIN $2000

How Many Objects Beginning With "B" Can You Find in This Picture?

Here's a picture containing several objects beginning with the letter "B." The object of the game is to find the most. Fifteen cash prizes will be given for the fifteen best list of words submitted in answer to this puzzle. The person sending in the largest and nearest correct list of "B-words" will win 1st prize; the second best, 2nd prize, etc.

Without any trouble whatsoever, such objects as "burger," "barrel," and "broom," can you? Well, the objects are just as plain, but the idea is to see who can find the most. I wonder how many of these "B-words" you can find? Can you find ten or twenty, or how many? It's lots of fun—try it.

EVERYBODY JOIN IN Costs Nothing to Try

The Chicago Evening Post announces today a most fascinating and amusing puzzle game—a game in which everyone from Grandma to the little tot can take part. It really isn't a puzzle at all, as all the objects in the picture have been made perfectly clear. There are none hidden—you can see them at a glance. No need to turn the picture upside down or sideways, or tilt it, this way or that. Just each word down as you see it, and when your list is completed send it in to The Chicago Post and try for the big prize.

Wouldn't it be grand to learn at the close of this puzzle game that you had been awarded first prize and was the proud possessor of $2,000? You can win $1,000, cash, you'll Two Thousand Dollars will enable you to have the hundred and one things you have longed for, but have been unable to have. It will buy an automobile—a home of your own—a farm—diamonds—clothes—pay off a mortgage. It will enable you to do lots of things you have wanted money for.

Start the "word-mill" going tonight. It's lots of fun—and profitable too. Try it.

You Can Win $2000

This "B-Word" Picture Puzzle Game is a campaign to increase the popularity of The Chicago Evening Post. It costs nothing to take part, and you do not have to send in a single subscription to win a prize.

If your list of "B-words" is awarded First Prize by the judges you will win $1,000, but if you would like to win more than $1,000, we are making the following special offer whereby you can win bigger cash prizes by sending in more than one list. With remittance to cover, to "The Chicago Evening Post."

For instance: If your answer to the "B-Word" Picture Puzzle wins First Prize and you have sent in ONE six-month subscription to "The Post" (either new or renewal) you will win $1,000 instead of $500; 2nd Prize $500; 3rd Prize $250. (See 2nd column in prize list).

OR: If your answer to the "B-Word" Picture Puzzle wins 2nd Prize and you have sent in TWO six-month subscriptions, or ONE yearly subscription to "The Post," you will win $2,000 instead of $1,000; 2nd Prize $1,000; 3rd Prize $500. (See 3rd column in prize list).

REMEMBER: It takes but two six-month subscriptions or one full yearly subscription to qualify for the Big $2,000 reward. ABSOLUTELY FREE! There is no charge for the puzzle game. Your own subscription will cost you nothing. We will send you a copy of the credit on our books and start the puzzle at any future date desired.

OBSERVE THESE SIMPLE RULES—

1. Any man, woman or child who is not an employee of The Chicago Evening Post or a member of an employee's family may submit an answer. It costs nothing to try.
2. All answers must be mailed by Saturday, March 18, 1922.
3. Answers should be written on one side of the paper, numbering words 1, 2, 3, etc., with the sender's name and address in the upper right-hand corner of each sheet.
4. Only words found in Webster's new International Dictionary will be counted. Unusually hyphenated or obscure words will not be counted. Either the singular or plural can be used.
5. Words of the same spelling can be used only once, even though used to designate different objects. The same object can be named only once. However, any visible part of the object may also be named.
6. The person sending in the largest and nearest correct list of words will win first prize. Neatness, style and handwriting have no bearing upon deciding the winner.
7. Candidates may co-operate in answering the puzzle, but only one prize will be awarded to any one household, nor will a prize be awarded to more than one of any group outside of the family who are two or more have been working together.
8. In the event of a tie for any prize offered, the full amount of such prize will be paid to each participant.
9. All answers will receive the same consideration regardless of whether or not a subscription to The Chicago Evening Post is sent in.
10. There will be three independent judges, having no connection with The Chicago Post, who will judge the answers submitted and award the prizes at the end of the puzzle game, and participate in the drawing of the prize.
11. The judges will make the final and conclusive decision of the contest and the announcement of the prize-winners and correct list of words will be published in The Chicago Evening Post just as quickly thereafter as possible.

The Tribune has the largest Morning Circulation in America

"Now watch us catch Momma," said The Daily News of New York in a page advertisement March 5, 1921, announcing that it was exceeded in morning daily circulation by only two other American newspapers—its parent, The Chicago Tribune, and The Boston Post.

Flushed with success (having passed several hundred morning newspapers in circulation during its twenty one months of life), the bantam promised to pass the two leaders in a year.

The News did pass The Boston Post, which averaged 415,000 morning daily circulation in 1921, but the February, 1922, figures for The Chicago Tribune and The Daily News of New York are as follows:

Chicago Tribune = = = = 501,123
Daily News of New York, 457,724

From all of the above let us point a moral:

Seventy-five years have not made "Momma" old any more than they make a city senile or a waterfall feeble. An institution such as The Tribune is able to defy the years by constant accessions of young rejuvenating brains and energy. "Momma's" seventy-five years have yielded prestige, stability, experience—but no hardened arteries, as anyone may discover who cares to experiment—even members of the family.

GRABINER BRINGS
NO WORD FROM SOX HOLDOUTS

Sagin, Tex., March 9.—[Special.]—

Secretary Harry Grabiner arrived here today, but he bore no information concerning White Sox holdouts. And none of the numerous holdouts appeared in time to engage in this afternoon's practice.

Today's workout consisted of the usual stunt for the battery men and the outfielders, with Red Oberg and a number of rookies performing on the infield. The Cuban pitcher, Jose Acosta, was stationed at short. Harry Hooper and Amos Knut were in uniform. They spent the morning fishing and Hooper caught two catfish.

McClain Back in Uniform. Hervey McClain was able to don a uniform again, but his injured ankle was protected by a brace. It is doubtful if he will be able to play against the Chicago Red Sox, Ralph Bernier, the Chicago fireman, was able to take some exercise. He had been confined to his room with an infected ear.

Manager Gleason had a long talk with Grabiner and in all probability the squad of rookies will be reduced within a day or two by sending home several of the semi-pro players who are useless as major leaguers.

No Morning Practice. Morning work was out of the question today, as a "norther" blew up and for a time the air was chilly. About noon the sun came out and it was warmer, but a strong wind interfered with proper training.

CUBS OFF FOR EXHIBIT. Aralon, Cal., March 9.—[Special.]—Twenty-eight Cubs, headed by Manager E. Killefer, left on afternoon boat for the mainland today. They will play the Portland club at Pasadena tomorrow on the same field they used for several springs during the training season. Jones and Tony Kaufmann of Chicago are expected to divide the pitching duties between them.

On Saturday and Sunday the Bruins play at the Los Angeles park. During the morning Dugy, Stata, Miller, Wirtz, Osborne, Stullinger, Jones, Elliott, Hollocher, Kelleher, Callaghan, Klugman, Cotter, and Goldin went on a fishing trip. They left at 7 o'clock and returned at noon, bringing a mess of assorted fish. Five baby sharks, each about three feet long, were included. Oscar Dugy, with Capt. E. Stata's aid, landed a six foot blue shark after a fair struggle.

Alec the Great in Trim. The players who stayed away from the fishing trip spent the forenoon at hard practice in batting, fielding, and pitching. Friberg hit left handed and scored much class. He may switch to the right hand during the season. Alexander felt fine. He says there isn't an ache in his arm. Alec intends to take things easy until the season starts.

Cheever, Friberg, and O'Farrell, who are still somewhat overweight, had plenty of running mixed in with the other work. Alex Freeman is so far improved that he is talking of getting into the Coast League game next week. He insists he has more on the ball than ever before in his career. Wierles continues to please the bosses with his peppery fielding and hard hitting. He will get his first real chance against the Portland Beavers.

TRAINING CAMPS. Cincinnati, O., March 9.—The arrival of Sam Canty, Babe Pinelli, and the rest of the training camp, Cincinnati National League Manager Morag said for the opening of the training camp at West Baden Saturday and Sunday. Sam Canty, who was expected to accompany the other arrivals from the Pacific coast, had not yet appeared last night, according to dispatches from Mineral Wells.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 9.—Winty weather at Phillies' camp in Leesburg, Va., ended their practice session. The players went through two workouts, however, but most of them were sweaters.

St. Louis, Mo., March 9.—A home run by Ray, a recruit pitcher, with one man on base, helped the Cardinals to a 2-0 victory over the local American training camp at Mobile, Ala. Outfielder Cedric Hunter contributed greatly to the one run victory of 14 to 3 carried by the Cardinals over the Americans.

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of The Tribune boxing representatives are:
Mike Gibbons beat Tommy Murphy [10].
Tommy Carney and Johnny Donahue, draw [10].
At Jacksonville, Fla.—Jimmy Macey beat Danny Whitley [10].
At Allentown, Pa.—Jackie Clark beat Jack Stone [10].
At Omaha—Dave Shado beat Morrie Schaffer [10].

Local fight fans are taking a keen interest in the ten round bout between Herbie Schaeffer, local bantamweight, and Bud Taylor of Tarrytown, Ind., feature of the boxing show to be staged by the Naval post of the American Legion aboard the U. S. S. Commodore tonight.

Taylor and Schaeffer met on two previous occasions. Their ten round bout in Omaha was called a draw by the referee, while the popular decision went to Taylor when they boxed ten rounds in South Bend, Ind. Taylor is a boxer and Schaeffer a fighter.

Both can sock for little fellows and the fans are looking forward to an interesting contest.

The main event will be supported by three other contests of six rounds each. The fight will open at 8:15 o'clock and Phil Collins will referee.

Joe Burman, matched to meet Midget Smith in Madison Square Garden on March 20, settled down to active training at the Arcade yesterday. Joe said he was having little trouble to make 120 pounds at 5 o'clock on the day of the fight and asserted he will be matched to meet Johnny Buff for the bantamweight championship if he wins the decision over Smith.

The eight round bout between Bill Tala, colored heavyweight champion, and Sam Langford, scheduled to take place in Memphis on Monday night, has been called off. Tala's mother is seriously ill in New York and the fighter sent word to Manager Howard that he will be unable to fight.

Charley White, matched to meet Johnny Dundee in a fifteen round decision bout in Madison Square Garden on March 17, is training in Philadelphia. White will leave for the east on Tuesday.

Ever Hammer, local lightweight, has recovered from a recent illness and will soon launch a campaign in the east. A match with E. O. Chaney is pending in Philadelphia.

The amateur final bouts held at Ferret's local gym last night resulted as follows:
E. O. Chaney beat M. Dimigro, 3 rounds, at 135 pounds. W. Adams beat W. Best, 3 rounds, at 125 pounds. Tom White beat J. Kuris, 3 rounds, at 115 pounds. Kauter beat W. Giese, 4 rounds, at 120 pounds. J. Sanger and D. Morris boxed 4 rounds to a draw at 140 pounds.

Mike Gibbons easily Beata Tommy Murphy at Peoria, Ill., March 9.—Mike Gibbons, St. Paul, decisively defeated Stockyarda Tommy Murphy, Chicago, in a ten round windup bout here tonight. The Phantom was at his best, avoiding every swing of the Chicago boxer, while he used his left jab and right hook with effect. Gibbons slightly injured his right hand in the second round.

O'KEEFE TO BOX SCHLAIFER. Des Moines, Ia., March 9.—Dennis O'Keefe, Chicago, and Morrie Schlaifer, Omaha, were signed today to meet in a ten round bout here March 24. The local post of the American Legion will stage the show.

SENNAS HOLD ELECTION. Sienna, A. C. at its last regular meeting elected the following officers: Frank Butler, president; Joseph Smith, vice president; James Corrigan, secretary; Joseph Rolan, treasurer; and Harold Greenwood, sergeant at arms.

Y. M. C. A. FIVE IS WINNER. Hebrew Athletic association defeated the South Chicago White Sox, 57-24. There was a star of the game, making four baskets and five free throws.

PARIS, March 9.—Georges Carpentier is finished as a first class heavy weight boxer in the belief of his friends following the news of an operation on the French pugilist's lymphatic glands on the left side of his neck yesterday.

"Georges is like a race horse that trains too fine, for he is delicate and not strong physically despite his powerful, punching and boxing ability," said a close friend. "The neck trouble is not a result of Jack Dempsey's punches, but rather is an aftermath of an illness incurred last November when he was training for the Cook fight scheduled for December."

Dog's Death Upsets Georges. "Shooting at his country place and accompanied by his dogs, Georges heard a yelp of pain and discovered his pet wolfhound Flip dying after being hit by an automobile. Carrying the dying dog back to his training quarters, Carpentier noticed that an Irish terrier, the gift of Sir Philip Sassoon, was missing. Retracing his steps he found the terrier dead in the snow, shot by a jealous farmer."

"Flying into a most violent temper, Georges a few hours later broke out with a violent rash and suffered from chills and fever which necessitated postponement of the Cook fight until January. The gland trouble in the neck is a result of this."

Income Tax Worries Him. Georges' intimates assert that the boxer has been worried over financial troubles during the last few days since the French income tax collectors have demanded more than 700,000 francs on his 1921 receipts. Despite his protest that he paid the United States $80,000 after the Dempsey fight, the authorities here are insisting on collecting another $70,000 at the present rate of exchange.

HORNSBY SIGNS CARDS CONTRACT; LEAVES FOR CAMP. St. Louis, Mo., March 9.—Rogers Hornsby, last year's National league batting champion, signed a new contract with the Cards this evening, according to an announcement made by Branch Rickey, manager of the team. While Rickey declined to make known the salary, it is understood Hornsby will receive from $20,000 to $25,000.

Hornsby and Rickey came to an agreement after a long conference this afternoon. Neither would divulge the terms of the contract or its duration.

Shortly before the beginning of the training season it became known that Hornsby was holding out for an annual salary of $25,000. Several days ago it was reported the management of the club had offered the heavy hitting second baseman $17,000.

Hornsby departed for the local team's training camp at Orange, Tex., tonight.

Negotiations between the club management and Jacques Fournier, first baseman, have as yet failed of an agreement. Fournier is the only regular of last year's team who has not signed a contract for this year.

Gets $22,500 Salary. Fort Worth, Tex., March 9.—A message was received here tonight from Rogers Hornsby in which he stated he had reached an agreement with President Rickey of the Cardinals for $22,500 a year and a salary increase if the St. Louis club finished first, second, or third.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

VETERANS STILL STARS.

URING this spring search for "young blood" to rebuild several teams in the major leagues we take pride in noting that the jobs of four veterans in the American circuit are not even threatened, although each has passed the ten years usually considered the baseball life of a star performer in the big rig.

These men are Manager Ty Cobb of Detroit, Eddie Collins of the White Sox, Walter Johnson of Washington, and Manager Tris Speaker of Cleveland.

Of this quartet, Collins several times has turned a deaf ear to suggestions of a pilot's duties because he does not want additional cares until he begins to slip as a player.

Imagine any of these men, on his 1921 showing, being displaced by a rookie? If a manager were willing to trade he could secure bundles of kale or platoon of other players in exchange for any one of them.

Cobb has seen seventeen years of service; Collins (once a "college amateur" at Columbia until discovered playing summer ball under an assumed name, if our memory serves correctly, sixteen years; Johnson, fifteen years; Speaker, fourteen years.

FOUR TEAMS IN
N. Y. 6 DAY RACE
LAPPED IN JAM

New York, March 9.—Four teams in the six day bicycle race in Madison Square Garden were lapped during a mad scramble started after the sprints tonight by the American riders, Cornburn and Lands.

When, after ten minutes, the jam was brought to a halt by the sprinting of Egg, the combinations of Drobach-Hanley, Horan-Fitzsimmons, and Bello-Gaffney had lost one lap, and that of Kopsky-Erskine, which only an hour earlier had regained a lap lost Wednesday, was circled twice.

Grenda and McNamara and Brocco and De Ruyter still led the race one lap ahead of the field.

WEISSMULLER IN MAT SHOW. Adam Weissmuller, cousin of Johnny Weissmuller, occasional I. A. C. swimmer, will meet Billy Kala, claimant of the welterweight title, in the main event of the mat show at Prudential hall, North avenue and Halsted street, tonight. Two other bouts are on the card.

RETAIN PLACES;
SCORES ARE LOW

Toledo, O., March 9.—High marks set during the first week of the American Bowling congress tournament here proved too lofty for bowlers who competed today in the minor events.

None of the two men entries was able to come anywhere near the first ten in that division, the 1,160 bowled by Mills and G. Oswald of Grand Rapids, Mich., being the best for the day. Other two men scores were:

G. Tostall-W. Opperman, St. Louis, 1,153; W. Vachek-C. Dupont, Green Bay, Wis., 1,148; W. Hult-A. Kream, St. Louis, 1,134; J. Hanna-H. Ellis, Grand Rapids, 1,134; J. Van Oost-A. West, Green Bay, 1,130; P. Seasmann-M. Gelhaus, Grand Rapids, 1,128; G. Genderson-L. Schneider, Cincinnati, 1,118; J. Turabull-J. Coffman, Green Bay, 1,115; J. Dunlap-G. Hall, Cincinnati, 1,109.

Haute Ties for Ninth. There were no new entrants in the standings of the individuals today with the exception of W. Hult of St. Louis, who bowled 649 for a tie with C. Stein, also of St. Louis, for ninth place.

Bowling on the first squad, the Hottricks of Toledo rolled into third place in the five men standings with a team score of 2,859, three pins below the Brooks Oil company of Cleveland.

In the same squad the Champion Spark Plug of Toledo scored 2,772 for a tie for sixth place with the Lyceum Theatre of Cleveland. These were the only scores of any moment on the squad.

A. B. C. Meet Today. The annual meeting of the A. B. C. will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, it was announced today by A. L. Langtry, secretary. That official also was authority for the statement that the next tournament would be awarded to Milwaukee.

Some Comment on Three Comedies Now Current Hereabouts

By Mae Tinne.

The idea may not have occurred to the general public that the favorite outdoor sport of barbers and manicure ladies is duck hunting. It is doubtful if the thought ever even struck the b's and m. l's themselves. Mr. Sennett, however, seeing no reason why they should not hunt ducks, has built a fairly amusing comedy on the subject, featuring a number of his w. k. players, including Billy Bevins.

The usual Sennett contretemps occur with a few unusual angles. On the whole "The Duck Hunters" is apt to amuse the audience not too hard to please as regards its "funnies."

"Fool Days" features the decidedly likable, reasonably clever, and decidedly agile Al St. John.

This trip he's having a heck of a time betwixt a schoolmaster who loves him a time and a dark-haired maiden who looks coyly upon him but NOT upon him alone.

Mr. St. John's little college chum in the picture is a chimpanzee who shares his joys and troubles and is almost as human as Al himself.

Some rather "different" household labor saving devices are produced at the start of the comedy that will undoubtedly interest the busy housewife.

"Fool Days" is no world beater, but it is rather funny and gets quite a hand.

"The Crystal Gazer" is a current Myrt and Jeff cinema cartoon that is doing vurr well as far as laughs go, thank you.

Mutt—or is it Jeff?—consults a crystal gazer as to why the middle finger of his right hand is longer than it really ought to be—and finds out, SOMEDAY.

"The Crystal Gazer" doesn't take up much time, but works fast while it's working.

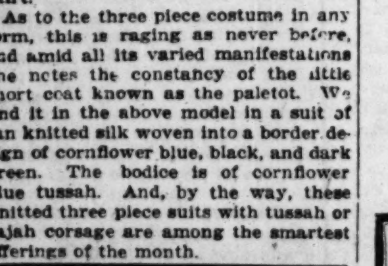

Three Piece Costumes
Extremely Effective

NEW YORK—[Special Correspondence.]—Nowadays it takes a detective agency to decide whether one is wearing a frock or a suit. Among the novelties of this spring is the three piece costume possessing a coat which looks for all the world as if it were merely the bodice of the frock.

The stiltitude is accomplished by blousing this coat into a hip length band which might seem to the unwary merely the girdle of a one piece frock. For the jacket fastens all the way to the neck line, and it is not until further acquaintance with the costume that one even suspects the presence of the chiton or crepe blouse attached to the skirt.

As to the three piece costume in any form, this is raging as never before, and amid all its varied manifestations one notes the constancy of the little short coat known as the pailot. We find it in the above model in a suit of tan knitted silk woven into a border design of cornflower blue, black, and dark green. The bodice is of cornflower blue tulle. And, by the way, these knitted three piece suits with tulle or ruche corage are among the smartest offerings of the month.

Dixon, who is leaving for the senior class of Ferry Hall seminary, in Lake Forest, will present three plays this evening at 8:15 o'clock in Smith hall. The plays are: "Riders to the Sea," by Synge; "Land of Heart's Desire," by Yeats, and "Spreading the News," by Lady Gregory.

A letter from Palm Beach brings the news that Chicagoans are more than usually active there this season. The entire colony seems to be dancing mad, and there is dancing in the Cocoon grove at the ten hour and in the palm room of the Poliniana in the late evening on the porch of the Breakers during the noon hour, and even in the morning on the beach after a dip in the surf. Mrs. Louis Sturmer will sing Sunday morning at the Poliniana chapel. She also is arranging a musicale at her cottage for next Tuesday evening, when Miss Daisy Jean Beigun cellist, will give the program. Miss Lois Sturmer is with a party on her way to Havana at present.

Mrs. Marshall Field of Washington, formerly of Chicago, is at the Breakers with Mrs. Albert Beveridge and Mrs. Abby Beveridge of Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Revell are spending the winter as usual at the Poliniana.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin J. Rosenthal, who have been in Palm Beach since December, will return to Chicago next week to welcome home their daughter, Mrs. Stanley Louis Reinhardt, upon her return from a honeymoon trip abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Thompson of 230 East Delaware place have returned from a six week stay at Palm Beach. Mrs. Beatrice Forbes-Robertson Hall has arrived in Chicago and is the guest of Mrs. Douglas Harriet and Mrs. John G. Ralston of 18 East Chestnut street. Miss Martha Moll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Moll of Burlington, Ia., is leaving today after a short visit with her fiancé and his mother, Louis C. Huck and Mrs. Louis C. Huck, at the Webster hotel. Miss Moll and Mr. Huck will be married in the autumn.

Mrs. Marshall Field III, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Wendell of 550 North Michigan avenue since Monday, left yesterday for her home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wrigley of 2466 Lake View avenue have returned from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. William Wrigley Jr. in California.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

TRIBUTE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON. Cress and Potato Soup.

The following words sound quite English, and that is what they are. "The French regard the cresses as about top notch for cooking purposes. The French maigre soup of watercress is delectable. It is made with either potato or rice to give body, with onion, parsley, egg, butter, and cream. Boiled watercress should be cooked in the same manner as spinach; as a support for an omelet or poached eggs it will be found admirable, or it can be served alone."

A bit of salt and butter is all that is needed to finish cress greens. For each bunch of cress allow two or three medium sized potatoes, one or two onions, two cups of milk, and a tablespoon or more of butter. Cook the cress, after it is well washed, by lifting it out of the last rinsing water into a small flat bottomed aluminum kettle, cover kettle closely, and set over small amount of fire until the cress is tender, then chop it and add to the potato, which has been mashed and cooked a little with the milk. Cook all for a few minutes, press through strainer, add butter and salt, heat up if necessary, and serve. A little cream improves this soup.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN. Help for an Invalid.

"Will you please help me? I am an invalid and lack even the bare necessities of a sickroom. If any of the readers have anything of that kind stored away I would be thankful to get them. If I could get an alcohol lamp or stove it would be a great help. Also a couple of feather cushions for keeping my back from the hard mattress. It gets so sore and tired. I will be thankful for whatever the kind readers send me. I can't buy anything, as my husband has been out of work five months."

"Mrs. M."

"Wagon Would Help."

"Has some one a wagon to give me? My mother receives aid from the country, and it is hard for me to carry the food home, so I give up flour and starch. I could use it to gather wood for our little home."

Symphony Orchestra Gives "Wagneria"

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Earnest scrutiny failed to uncover very much difference between the supposed popular program of the Chicago Symphony orchestra last night and one of its subscription programs. What difference there was applied mainly to the way Orchestra hall resounded to applause. This was greatly in favor of last night's audience. There were also some encores, but for main features of the program there was a Wagnerian list that included the prelude to "Lohengrin" and the richly colored excerpts from "The Mastersingers of Nuremberg," Glazunov's "Carnaval" overture, some of Schubert's "Rosamunde" music, and Schumann's "Spinning Wheel of Ophele."

The last named was Bruch's in G minor, the first of the set, and was played by Jacques Gordon, the concert master of the orchestra. It was played in rather stunning fashion, quite the best performance that Mr. Gordon has given in this neighborhood, and an encore was earnestly requested. It was Fritz Kreisler's Introduction and Scherzo Capriccioso.

The Chicago Opera association is harvesting unstinted praise in its tour about the east. A telegram received yesterday by Samuel Insull from Gen. Charles G. Dawes read thus:

"If the people of Chicago could be with us tonight and hear our opera company before a Baltimore audience, they would realize what the Chicago Opera association means to Chicago, and the guaranty would soon be completed. The opera tonight is 'La Boheme,' with Mason, Johnson, Rimini, Lazari, Pavlovka, and Deferre, with Polacco conducting. A great performance. Baltimore now starting a campaign for a week of opera next year instead of three nights as this season. The company moved to Pittsburgh last night to open with Mary Garden in 'The Love of Three Kings.' It will give four performances there, leaving for this city early Sunday morning to give a single performance of 'Lohengrin' at the Auditorium. It then will go to the Pacific coast by way of Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Helena, Mont."

WILL VISIT HERE

Sir Auckland and Lady Geddes.

Sir Auckland and Lady Geddes are expected to arrive from Washington tomorrow morning. The British ambassador will have lunch with the Chicago Association of Credit Men at the Hotel La Salle on Saturday. In the evening he will leave Chicago for an extended tour of the west and northwest.

"Sir Auckland Geddes, known as a diplomat, is also a business man," said Roy G. Elliott, president of the Chicago Association of Credit Men, today. "I am sure that business men of Chicago will appreciate this opportunity of meeting the ambassador and hearing his views on business relations between America and Europe. International credit relations is the topic upon which, I understand, he is to speak at the luncheon."

Arts Club Gives Another Luncheon

The Arts club had another of its distinguished guest luncheons yesterday, and it was usually "every one" attended it. The guests this time were Frances Starr, Violet Kemble Cooper, Frank Bacon, and Lawrence Grossmith. Miss Starr and Mr. Bacon made short talks, both being introduced by Mr. Antonin Barthelmy, the French consul. Miss Starr referred to the attacks on people of the stage that have been made recently by a New York clerkman and regretted that absolute silence had not been their answer. Mr. Bacon told briefly of his early stage career. At the table with the guests and the toastmaster were Haskell Coffin, Percy Marston, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus S. Peabody, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Pauline Palmer, Mrs. Joseph B. Long, Mrs. George Higgins Jr., and Mrs. Edward A. Leigh.

The Prairie Club.

The Prairie club's walk tomorrow afternoon will be from Ravinia to Port Sheridan, a distance of seven miles. The club will leave the Chicago and Northwestern station at 1:30 p. m.

The Players' Club.

The Players' club will give "Jane Clegg" at the Chicago Hebrew institute Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

JAPS AND ALLIES PURLOIN SEIZED GERMAN STORES

Ship Boatloads of Diesel Engines to Tokio.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer.)
(Copyright 1922, By The Chicago Tribune.)

BERLIN, March 9.—The treaty of Versailles has been violated by the entente not once, but several times. Moreover, the numerous violations have resulted in the strengthening of the military equipment of certain of the allied nations, notably Japan, and the weakening of American equipment. Although the United States did not sign the treaty, it had every legal right to the materials which the entente countries obtained illegally.

The majority of violations of the treaty of Versailles were committed by Japanese, French, and Italian military men, either with the connivance of the various entente missions sent to Germany to supervise disarmament and reparations, or by the entente missions putting their hands over their eyes while the crimes were committed. As a result of two years of these violations, France, Italy, and Japan obtained not only patents, but also large quantities of submarine materials, machine guns by the thousands, rifles by the millions, airplane motors, new guns, gas shells, and other materials which, according to the treaty, were to have been destroyed.

Japs Light Fingers.
I have secured my information regarding these general statements from the highest official sources, and not only have I confirmed the truth of them, but I have obtained data as to some specific cases which I am at liberty to divulge. This information comes from officials of minor entente nations as well as Germans. I have found that the Germans are the least willing to speak of these violations because German officialdom fears that the reparations and disarmament commissions will enforce still sterner regulations should anything be said against their honesty and integrity.

While America has not received a cent's worth of materials or plans, to give a specific instance, Japanese government agents on one occasion removed thirty-nine Diesel engines. This enormous shipment, requiring many freight cars and much shiproom, was made through Munich and Zurich, and thence to Trieste, where Japanese ships took them to Japan. These engines had been designed for German submarines.

In other words German war materials then under absolute threat to be destroyed became instruments to be used in the event of a future war.

Germans Seize Fourth Shipment.
This flagrant violation of the Versailles treaty was followed by three more shipments of Diesel engines by the Japanese. These shipments were from Hamburg. After two ships containing engines had left port the German authorities discovered and seized the third shipment and confiscated it. In this manner Germany was put in the paradoxical position of enforcing a treaty which Germany was doing its utmost to have broken legally.

Next to the Japanese as violators of the treaty come the French. I am informed from most reliable official sources that several thousand of the finest large size German machine guns which were in a depot in Dusseldorf awaiting destruction under the supervision of the allied control commission disappeared mysteriously.

Immediately German plotters were accused, but a secret investigation traced the machine guns into the Rhineland, then to France, and finally into the Schneider gun works in central France.

There is also the incident of 20,000 tons of high explosives which the control commission ordered destroyed or changed into dynamite which Germany was permitted to manufacture and use.

Of this lot there were 7,000 tons of T. N. T. Instead of destroying the explosives, the commission sold them for 4 marks a pound to a German firm, while an American firm offered 8 marks. Moreover these 20,000 tons are not being destroyed immediately, but are available should Germany engage in a war within the next ten years. For this transaction a certain entente colonel, who is supposed to be an intense patriot whose one aim is to see that Germany is made militarily impotent forever, is blamed.

A few weeks ago when Stettin harbor froze an Italian ship was stuck in the ice. When the German authorities investigated they found that a large shipment of rifles which should have been destroyed were being consigned to the Italian government. It was not the first shipment of war materials to be headed in the direction of Italy.

Some Small Parcels.
These are incidents of mass shipments. There were also small parcel shipments of war materials and plans for new patents.

In startling contrast is the case of an American business man who obtained important war inventions and shipped the materials as a present to the American government. A New York customs official imbued with treaty enthusiasm refused to permit the materials to land and after six months of haggling between the state, war, and commerce departments only a part of these inventions were released. Even now the matter is unsettled and this official, appointed by former President Wilson, threatens to ship the rest back to Germany because he claims it is a violation of the treaty of Versailles to export war materials.

DIES IN SANITARIUM.
Thomas H. Kerson, 45 years old, of New York, died yesterday in a sanitarium at 4400 St. Lawrence avenue. Police say he suffered from mental disorder and a fit of violence was followed by a hemorrhage.

WILLYS-KNIGHT

At a Low New Price of $1375

This car of refinement and quality is now within the means of those who have considered such a car beyond their hopes

It combines, in addition to the advantages of other fine cars, all of the advantages of the Knight type sleeve-valve motor.

This Willys-Knight motor actually improves—grows more powerful with use—a quality which distinguishes it from all other motors.

It requires no adjustments. It is more flexible—and it always operates quietly.

It is more powerful than any other motor of equal size, and because of this, the Willys-Knight car consumes less gasoline than any other car of equal power and weight.

These important advantages added to the beauty, economy, road comfort and extraordinary long life of the Willys-Knight car explain the enthusiasm of more than 50,000 owners.

Touring reduced $150; now $1375. Roadster reduced $125; now $1350 Coupe reduced $320; now $1875. Sedan reduced $300; now $2095
f.o.b. Toledo

It is more powerful. The spark directly above the piston drives the power of every explosion directly down onto the piston.

It is economical for no power is wasted.

It is more flexible. Two sliding sleeves are driven by an eccentric shaft.

It is quiet and stays so. No cams. No springs. No complicated parts to wear and become noisy.

It requires no adjustments—for it is simple—free from complications.

Carbon, collecting behind the compression ring, increases the compression and the power.

The New York Times

New York, March 9.—[Special.]

There were three announcements the financial markets. One was the state department's refusal to participate in the Geneva conference; another was the news that four other large independent steel producing companies had advanced steel prices; the third was Secretary Mellon's announcement of a four year treasury note issue to which subscriptions would be received only in the outstanding Victory 4% per cents.

This last mentioned announcement is part of what seems to be a carefully thought out series of expedients for re-attending the redemption at par on May 30,

1923, of $3,000,000,000 of those bonds.

Similar to January offer.

It follows the offer at the end of January, for similar subscription of $3,000,000,000 of four year notes, of the kind; also the subsequent calling for redemption, at the half

NEWS OF THE DAY THROUGH THE EYE OF THE CAMERA

beyond the bridesmaids, at the steps leading to the altar, are seen, seated, the princess royal, the Duke of York, Queen Mary, and King George, eagerly drinking in every word of the service. The many uniforms and handsome gowns of the women indicate the magnificence of the scene.

RECEIVING THE PLAUDITS OF THE CROWDS. Immediately after the wedding ceremony in Westminster Abbey Viscount Lascelles and his bride were driven, with the king and queen and Queen Mother Alexandra, to Buckingham palace. There, on the spacious lawn, great throngs were gathered. The king

PAYS $1,000 TO WED. J. Taylor Newmark, 4700 Drexel boulevard, and his bride, formerly Miss Rosalinde E. Fleischer of Cincinnati. The bridegroom, as a member of the "Bachelor Button club" here, forfeited $1,000 to other members when the ceremony was performed in Cincinnati last Tuesday.

ZIONIST CHIEF IN U.S. Nahum Sokolow will be in Chicago Tuesday to open a drive for $200,000 to facilitate the work of colonizing Palestine.

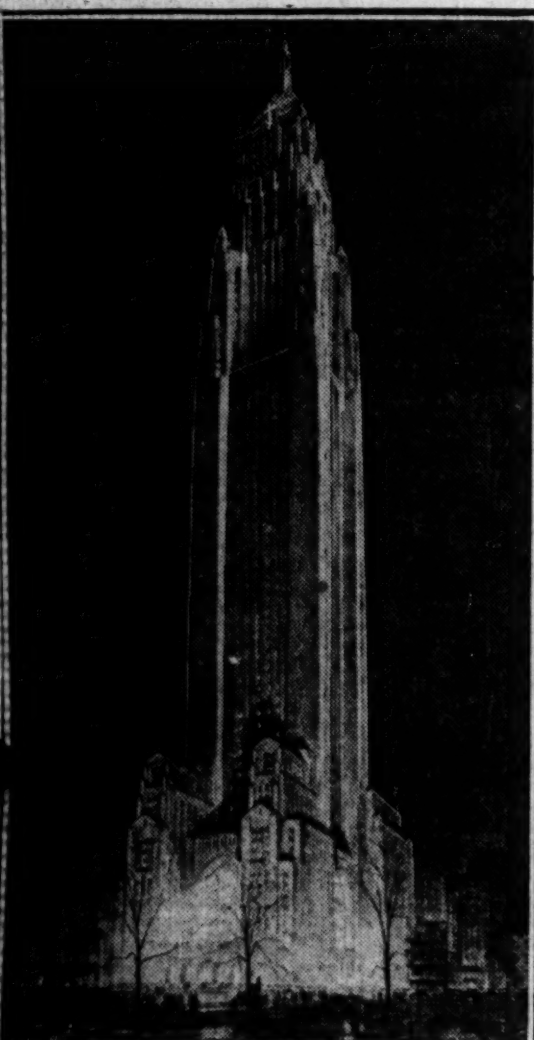

CALL GIRL JUROR. Chicago jury commissioners, encountering the name Florence Sullivan, thought it was a man and sent out a summons. "I'll be there," this girl replied.

THE START OF A NEW LIFE. In this royal carriage Princess Mary and the Viscount Lascelles are being driven to Buckingham palace after their wedding. Crowds lined the streets en route and cheered the bride couple, the princess frequently leaning from the window, as in this picture, to bow acknowledgment. Members of the famous Horse Guards accompanied the carriage as outriders.

INNOVATIONS IN ARCHITECTURE will be shown at the annual architectural exhibit in the Art Institute beginning Sunday, March 12. This great design is for the sixty-three story convocation office building to be built in New York.

AN UNLUCKY DAY FOR ONE OF THEM. This pair of fighters Tommy Gibbons (at right) and Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh light heavyweight, will face each other in the ring in Madison Square Garden, New York, the night of the 13th—next Monday. They have already tangled three times. The winner this time will likely get a crack at Dempsey.

CHICAGO STYLES are better than those of Paris, say delegates to the Fashion Art League meeting next week. Miss Margaret Follett is displaying orchid silk pajamas designed at the Fine Arts academy.

"BOYS, YOU'LL SOON HAVE YOUR BONUS." Congressman J. W. Fordney promised 100 wounded veterans from government hospitals in Chicago at the wholesale lumber dealers' convention in the Congress hotel yesterday. He is shown speaking to the boys.

WINNIPEG'S PRIDE, its male choir of sixty voices, a civic organization, will be heard in Orchestra hall next Monday night. Percy Grainger (above) has written two songs to be sung in honor of the occasion.

"UNHAND ME, VILLUN," protests Miss Ellen Coyne, one of the thirteen University of Chicago Dramatic club members who will present "Three Live Ghosts" in Leon Mandel hall tonight and tomorrow night. Earl Ludgin is the laughing "villun."

THEIR AGES TOTAL 2,065 YEARS. Here are twenty-eight members of the Grandmothers' club at their regular meeting in the Episcopal parish house in Berwyn yesterday. The organization, the only one of its kind in existence, was formed eleven years ago.

It has thirty-five members, and as many more have been buried. At each meeting a score of quilts are made for shelter homes and charitable organizations. Specimens of the handwork of the members have been sent all over the world.
